

Thanks For That Vote In Andover

A couple of pretty happy people Tuesday night were Paul Tsongas who won the Fifth District Congressional seat from Congressman Paul Cronin and Mrs. Ann Gallo of Andover, who co-ordinated the Andover campaign for the successful Lowell Democrat.

Watergate - - Helps One Hurts Another

The Watergate tide was the key point in both camps of the Fifth District Congressional fight which saw incumbent Paul W. Cronin of Andover defeated by Democrat Paul Tsongas of Lowell Tuesday.

Winner Tsongas said Tuesday night at the height of a victory celebration at the Holiday Inn in Tewksbury that the national trend very definitely was a bid assist.

Republican Cronin, seeking re-election to another two year term attributed Watergate and the mood of the nation to his defeat, along with the state of the economy.

Both paid tribute to their campaign workers who they thanked for their diligent efforts in their behalf during the past several weeks.

Tsongas, was particularly laudatory toward his campaign workers, noting that while the national trend was helpful, in the end it was the "hard work of a lot of people" which turned the election in his favor.

Both candidates had exchanged charges on openness during the campaign.

The newly-elected congressman was thankful for the efforts of Andover workers for their efforts locally.

"We are very thankful for the Andover vote, and the work of the campaign workers there," The Andover committee was headed by Mrs. Ann Gallo, a cousin of the new legislator.

As for the difference in total Andover votes 5,739 for Cronin and 4,038 for him, Tsongas, said that he knew he had won when that count came in.

We were hoping for a 3,000 vote differential, but when we saw only a 1,600 vote difference in Andover, we knew we had won," Tsongas said.

Many Andover residents and workers were in attendance at the victory celebration, wishing the new Congressman well.

Among those visiting the successful candidate, was the man he defeated, Congressman Cronin, who went to the Tewksbury motel, offered his congratulations and wished him well, the two men addressing the Tsongas campaign quarters from a stage in the Holiday Inn ballroom.

Democratic Wins, Inroads Stun Traditional GOP Stronghold In Andover

By Robert E. Finneran
Managing Editor

A strange thing happened on the way to the polls in Andover. In a town which in 1936 went 3-1 for Alf Landon, while the remainder of the country was supporting a landslide victory for Democrat Franklin D. Roosevelt, Democrats were either actual or virtual winners on the Andover ballot on Tuesday.

Democrat Atty. Gerald Cohen was the winner of the new all-Andover Representative seat and Democrat Paul Guzzi outpolled his Republican opponent for Secretary of State in local tabulations.

The GOP standard bearers, including Congressman Paul W. Cronin, seeking re-election to another two year term, failed to garner the commanding plurality generally accorded Republicans by Andover voters in the past.

The 72 per cent turnout on Tuesday, basically, followed the national trend of turning out current office holders and generally handing the reigns of government over to the Democrats.

Andover had, for the first time in its history a Democrat majority in the total registered voters, 4,299 to 4,174, with 5,302 unenrolled. This was attributed somewhat to the active Democrat primary for the Andover representative seat in September.

For Democrat Cohen, the win was particularly significant.

In a three-way race for the new representative seat, he had joined with Republican Roger W. Collins and Independent Atty. John P. Cronin, in an active campaign.

When the votes were counted Tuesday night, as a Democrat, he had accomplished what John F. Kennedy did only once in Andover, - - win the local contest. Kennedy received a plurality in his re-election bid for U.S. Senate in 1958, but failed to win Andover endorsement for the

Cohen Victory Shows Youth Will Be Served

By Linda S. Corbett

The dining room floors were shaking at 5 William Street Tuesday night, as a bevy of teenagers showed off their best election can-can.

"Jerry Cohen, he's our man," they sang to Yankee Doodle, "Hero of our nation, Vote for him and he will try, to lower your taxation."

"Those kids were worth at least 20 votes apiece," said one adult passerby. "That could have been the difference."

Whatever the difference, Cohen and company were savoring the sweet taste of the first Andover-only seat in the State House of Representatives. His 3741 votes had out-nosed the 3310 of Republican Roger Collins, a 10-year veteran of the Andover Board of Selectmen, and the 2595 of John Cronin, the 27-year-old Republican turned Independent, who is also the brother of unseated Congressman Paul Cronin.

Things were a bit more solemn over at the Sheraton Rolling Green, where Collins addressed campaign workers and friends in the Blue Room.

Collins attributed his second place to four things: the Democratic "overturn," not working hard enough; the Cronin-Collins battle for the in-

Commission Gets Grant For Transportation Study

E. James Gaines, chairman of the Merrimack Valley Planning Commission announces that the Commission has recently signed a contract with the U.S. Department of Transportation, Urban Mass Transportation Administration to conduct a Transit Development Program Study. The contract amount is $28,500.

According to Mr. Gaines the Transit Development Program is the most important link in beginning to improve bus transportation in the MVPC Region. The study will examine the available bus service in the Region, including privately and publicly owned services, and who is currently using this service. From this data new areas of service can be recommended.

The Transit Study will then examine available financial sources to provide increased service and management alternatives available to run this service. Coordination with the recently established Regional Transit Authority is an integral part of the Study according to Mr. Gaines.

From the study of existing conditions and from available and potential financial and management alternatives recommendations on equipment needs, new buses, mini-buses, shelters, etc. will be made encompassing a five-year period.

The Transit Development Program, Mr. Gaines emphasized, seeks to make maximum use of existing facilities and resources as well as programming for increased bus service and the new equipment needed to provide this service.

The first step before a Transit Development Program can proceed is the formulation of a Study Design or Scope of Work, which will highlight the areas of detailed study. Staff work on the Study Design has begun.

YMCA Adult Members and interested adult friends of the YMCA, are invited to attend.

Atty. Philip J. Coppola

Coppola Passes Bar Exam

Philip J. Coppola, 30, 22 Woburn St., Andover, has been notified that he has passed the Massachusetts Bar examination, administered in June of this year.

Atty. Coppola, who intends to open a law practice locally, is a June graduate of Suffolk Law school. He was a candidate for state representative in the Democratic primary in Andover this year and lost a close battle to Atty. Gerald Cohen.

Coppola has been a resident of Andover for over 20 years and is a graduate of local schools.

A veteran of the Vietnam war, he received his B.S. degree from Farleigh Dickinson University in Madison, N.J.

A member of the Andover Jaycees, he has served as a deputy officer in the state Department of Natural Resources and has been employed as a district manager for a publishing company.

Lions Begin Annual Seal Drive

The month of November marks the start of the Andover Lions Club Eye Research Seal Drive. Every year the Andover Club appeals to the generosity of the people in Andover, to help them to raise money for the care of those afflicted by blindness.

Contributions received are used in a two-fold purpose:

1) To help clinical and research needs at the Retina Foundation and Joslin Clinic.

2) To assist in local community needs such as, a) Financial assistance for needy children who need eye examinations, b) Donation of specific eye operating instruments to local hospitals, c) Donation of optical reading lenses, braille dictionaries and Talking Recorders on request.

Doyle Land Plans Examined By Board

A plan for development of the Doyle land, approved for acquisition for conservation/recreation at the annual town meeting this year, was presented to the selectmen Monday night by consultants.

The plan, which provides for about 24 parking spaces, and trails for horseback riding, hiking, and cross country skiing, were examined as being preliminary in nature by the board.

The town in March approved $300,000 for the considerable acreage off High Plain Road.

Al Lima, of the engineering firm of Metcalf and Eddy, presented the plan to the board and explained some of the state and federal grants available for both acquisition and development.

Under the state self-help program, the town could receive up to 50 per cent for acquisition if the area was to be designated conservation and passive recreation. An additional 25 per cent could be obtained for development of recreation areas within the 75 acres, depending on what type passive or active use, is to be made of the area by the general public.

Selectman George E.
Heseltine questioned the providing of only 24 parking spaces within the area, and also asked about development of ball fields and tennis courts.

Heseltine asked Recreation Director Gary Ralph if the board was to assume that the town would have more schools and development of playfields on existing school sites to meet needs.

Ralph said that West Andover has the greater need for ball fields at present and development of the West school area should be examined.

Ralph, his committee members and Mrs. Virginia
Hammond of the Conservation Commission were of the general opinion that the Doyle acreage was more adaptable to the plan presented by Lima.
The natural terrain should be retained and the passive recreational use of the area was deemed best.

Selectman Alan F. French pointed out that it appeared that the board was not now locked in to firm designation of use and development of the property as had been previously thought.

French noted that when initial talks concerning the property were held, federal and state financial assistance seemed to hinge on what the use of the area would be.

Lima had explained that application for funds can be done in stages and amendments made, thus permitting a different development of an area within the overall property at a later date, if desired and if funds are still available.

Development of the bridge paths and trails as proposed in the plan presented Monday night would cost an estimated $100,000 Lima told the board.

The selectmen generally agreed that the plan was a good starting point for local officials to work with and were of the opinion that possibly the drawings could be expanded to offer use to a broader segment of the community.

Executive Session Scheduled For Contract Talks

THE TOWNSMAN, NOVEMBER 7, 1974

By Linda S. Corbett

The Andover School Committee reluctantly agreed Tuesday night to hold an executive session after their November 19 meeting to discuss teacher negotiations.

The Andover Education Association has asked that the teacher's contract be reopened, and is waiting for the committee's response.

While the specific items they wish to negotiate have not been released, the 1975-76 contract can be reopened for all salary and working condition items. This year's contract was only reopened for salaries.

Apparently gun-shy from losing the secret meeting case brought against them by colleague William Lane, Committeeman George Olesen and John Lyons first voted "nay" to a motion for the executive session. Lyons expressed concern that guidelines be established for any such session, and a subsequent Olesen motion to exclude the administration, and have an executive session only with the committeemen and Ed Marshall, their negotiator, failed for lack of a second.

Griggs ignored Olesen's repeated request to move onto the next order of business, wanting "to make sure that everyone's aware of the significance" of not having an executive session.

"I think it behooves us as a committee to meet privately," Griggs said, adding that otherwise it was a little like "letting the horse out of the barn ahead of time," or "basically going into negotiations unprepared."

He said that the administration had always taken part in the past. Superintendent Kenneth R. Seifert had sat in until last year when, because of the financial items involved, Business Manager Edward Weil took his place.

"To go without administrative participation is a little foolhardy," he said.

Lyons finally relented that if the AEA negotiations were the only item on the executive session agenda, he would be in favor, and a new motion passed.

In other personnel-related action, the committee okayed raises for three central office employees not covered by contracts. Weil will be receiving $19,368, per the administration's request, while Assistant Business Manager Sam Arcidy will receive $10,000, and John Hannaford, audio visual specialist, will receive $11,298.

Seifert said he would postpone the increases for himself and Dr. Harry Westcott, associate superintendent, until proper evaluations could be made.

Olesen contested the raise for Weil, saying the latter had come into the system in November, 1972, at $16,000, and was given a $2,000 raise last year. To add 7.6 per cent on top of that Olesen said, would give him more than a 20 per cent increase in less than two years.

An Olesen motion to reduce the increase to a flat $19,000, was withdrawn after Lane questioned its parliamentary procedure.

Griggs said that Weil had improved the flow of information to the School committee, and that his prudence had resulted in the paying off of quite a lot of the deferred salary tab last year.

"In my opinion," Griggs said, "he has earned every nickel."

Lane added that Weil had made significant cost savings in his first year and that the school committee also realized then that Weil had come to work here at a rate less than people with comparable responsibilities were receiving in other systems.

Lyons agreed that Weil deserved "this substantial raise," but said he must bring up two items.

First, he said, the school system was involved in a suit brought by bus drivers, challenging the bidding procedures used by the business office. This, he said, was costing the committeemen time and the taxpayers money.

Furthermore, he said to Weil, "You are sitting here so you can answer technical questions. That does not give you license to sound off."

Weil responded that he felt Lyons comments were fair, and apologized "If I have in any way made your job more difficult."

Olesen also attempted to set Arcidy's salary at $9648 which, he said, would be a 7.6 per cent increase from his present $9,000.

Griggs countered that Arcidy had come on under the emergency employment act which had a low ceiling, and that this was the first fiscal year in which the committee could do anything to reflect Arcidy's performance.

Lyons added that Arcidy had been at a fixed level for three years.

The Olesen motion was defeated 3-1, and a Lane try at the $10,000 figure passed by the same vote.

The Hannaford figure, a 7.6 per cent increase, passed with little ado.

Watergate Had Effect

At the Andover Country Club, where Cronin campaign workers had gathered, the Congressman addressed them shortly after 10:30 p.m., announcing that the news was not good, and that he was about to join many others across the United States.

Cronin thanked his workers for joining him in "fighting the good fight. We did our best."

The congressman said that his mother has always told him that "if you do your best," everything will come out all right," in assessing the results of the arduous campaign.

He said the frustrations brought on by the state of the economy more than Watergate, as such, were registered at the ballot box on Tuesday.

As for whether his brother's candidacy for the Andover representative post had any effect on his showing locally, Congressman Cronin said he felt it did not. Atty. John P. Cronin was in the battle for the Andover representative post.

Congressman Cronin said he would be returning to Washington next week to complete the job to which he was elected two years ago.

As for the future, and would he be a candidate to win back the seat in two years, Cronin would not state positively his future plans, only to state, "government is my vocation."

dependent vote; and the endorsement of Cohen by local papers.

"I'm told I didn't knock on enough doors, make enough telephone calls," Collins said.

Collins said he was going back to his job at the Department of Youth Services after a three-week vacation for campaigning, and that he had no other political plans "at this time."

At the Elks Lodge on South Main Street, Cronin was answering "not me" to someone who shook his hand and said, "Don't give up, John."

Cronin attributed his loss to "a landslide kind of a thing... a crazy mix of circumstances."

"The voters had things on their minds," he said, adding that "the process will be served."

While he ran as an Independent this time, Cronin said future races or party would be considered later. Meanwhile, he said, he was going to get back into his law office and get squared away, and what was most on his mind Tuesday night, was thanking a group of disappointed, but nevertheless optimistic workers.

Both Cronin and Collins had called the victor to wish him well, and Collins added that he respected Cohen for running "a good, clean campaign."

'Dirty Work At The Crossroads'

Interest in theater this season has attracted many new members to the Andover Community Theatre. Many new faces will be seen on stage along with the familiar ones in "Dirty Work at the Crossroads."

Complete cast includes: Paul and Bea Chadwick Rick Cannon, Ann Foley, Liz Zeoli, Elaine Eldridge, Mary Jo Leonard, Lyn Huttunen, Al Swenson and Elaine Ciampa. Both Al and Elaine Ciampa received honors for performances in theater competition last spring.

Rick Winterson who is directing this melodrama has been a regular with ACT for several seasons and also directed the play ACT presented for the competition.

Enhancing this fun-filled production is a delightful set designed by Keith Henderson. He is being assisted by Ann Foley, art teacher at Doherty School. Lighting is under the direction of Ed Stoddard.

Turn of the century costumes, plus many favorite old songs lend an air of nostalgia to "Dirty Work". Anita McDuffie who is well-known in the area for her musical direction, has put her talents to work on piano arrangements, and the audience is invited to hum along.

All the elements for a great time are incorporated in this show. Catcalls and cheers from the audience are in order. Bring the kids and let them join in the fun.

Production dates are: Nov. 15, 16, 22 and 23 at West Elementary School at 8 p.m. Tickets are now on sale at Coles Hardware, Elander and Swanton and Thompson's.

ACT is under the auspices of the Recreation Community/Schools Department.

Scouts Honor Founder

Junior Girl Scout Troop 68 of St. Augustine School celebrated Juliette Low Day, the founder of the Girl Scouts of America, Oct. 31, and also recently held their first court of honor and a Halloween costume party.

In charge of refreshments were Dottie Kearns, Rhonda Sheridan, Eileen Fitzgerald and Charlotte Grant; drinks, Linda Ahles, Lea Treed, Janine Cahill, Julie Burke and Norma Jean Paris; hall decorations, Marianne Morrison, Jill Lopresti, Maria McAnn, Terri Anne McKettrick, Kim Byrne, Andrea Holbrook and Christine Fortier; table decorations, Susie Mae Katis, Jean Oelwang, Rhonda Sheridan and Marybeth Emons; candy, Joyce Mower and Julie King; games, Norma Jean Paris, Mary Ferragamo, Eileen Fitzgerald and Christine Fortier.

The prize for most original costume, which went to Joyce Mower, dressed as a tea bag, was a Girl Scout Canteen.

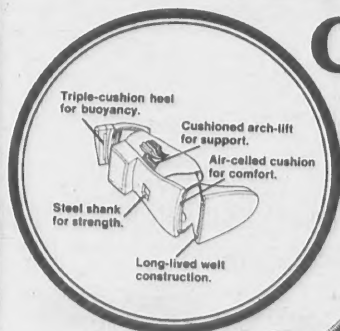

Julie King, dressed as the Statue of Liberty, received a necklace of the Girl Scout Trefoil for most unusual costume; Charlotte Grant, dressed as a witch, received a Girl Scout bracelet for the scariest costume, and Mrs. Janice Ferragamo, leader of Troop 68, received a prize for funniest costume.

Judges were Sister Mary Rosalie, SND, Sister Kathleen, SND and Sister Madeline, SND, and Miss O'Connor of St. Augustine's School.

Mrs. Gwynne Lopresti, assistant leader, helped decorate the hall.

The Merrimack Valley Textile Museum, Massachusetts Avenue, North Andover, is open 1 to 5 p.m. daily, at no charge.

A FAIRY TALE FOR REAL PEOPLE WITH REAL PEOPLE BUDGETS.

Once upon a time in a faraway land, a carpet was woven, completely by hand.

An India masterpiece, floating in flowers, with a beauty that hinted of magical powers.

Incredible colorings of delicate hue... gold, cream and rose on a field of soft blue.

(Variations of color could also be seen showing off subtle fields of pale ivory or green)

A magical look...and a magic price, too.

A cost that's so little...a dream that's come true.

But make sure it's the genuine Dildar* you buy for there's more to a carpet than just meets the eye.

Only the genuine Dildar will show the gold/black medallion to tell you it's so.

Thus, our fairy tale ends at the Studio Shoppe where our beautiful rugs will make your eyes pop.

May Appeal Flood Tag Property

A memo received by Town officials last week from the Federal Government puts the responsibility for appealing designation of property in a flood hazard area directly on the property owner.

A "walk-in" session concerning flood designation will be held this Saturday, Nov. 9, in Memorial Hall Library from 9:30 a.m. to 12 noon.

Copies of the memo, Flood Hazard Boundary Maps and additional information will be available. Members of the Town's Steering Committee on Flood Hazard Areas will be present to answer and record questions.

Maps and information will be available during the week at the Town Manager's Office.

Anderson Speaker At College

Pulitzer Prize columnist Jack Anderson will speak at Merrimack College on Thursday, Nov. 7 at 10 a.m. in the Church Auditorium on the North Andover campus. Anderson's lecture is sponsored by Merrimack College's Student Activities Association.

An investigative reporter and an advocacy journalist, Jack Anderson is a syndicated columnist whose "Washington Merry-Go-Round" is carried by 746 newspapers throughout the United States. He has been associated with the column originally started by Drew Pearson since 1947 and inherited the proprietorship of the column in 1969.

Along with Pearson, Anderson helped to uncover the "Five Percenters" of the Truman Administration and their collaborative articles also assisted in the resignation of Eisenhower aide Sherman Adams. Anderson's numerous columns on the late Senator Thomas J. Dodd uncovered information that the Connecticut Democrat had appropriated campaign contributions for his personal use.

Anderson's lecture at Merrimack College is open to the public and tickets may be purchased at the door.

Cinder tracks for serious runners are found at Andover High School and the Playstead adjoining East Junior High.

Rain Fails To Dampen Spirit

Despite a continual heavy rainfall on Tuesday, Andover voters turned out in large numbers to exercise their franchise and campaign workers braved the elements to win support for their candidates. At the Precinct Two polling place, wet weather gear and campaign signs were the order of the day for, from left, Leo Cronin, Mike Brennan, Wendy Berger, Mike Doran and Shawn Reming.

Sizer Forum Speaker

Theodore R. Sizer, Headmaster of Phillips Andover Academy and former Dean of the Harvard School of Education, will be the speaker at the third Forum on "Education Today" at the Christ Church Forums this Sunday.

The forums continue to be concerned with being exposed to some of the creative philosophies and techniques in education quite apart from the local public schools. By doing this it is hoped to create a climate and a focus which will take the local situation and direct it back to the educational needs of children.

Last Sunday's Forums led by A. Graham Down of the Council for Basic Education was outstanding and was one of the best attended Forums to date. Next week, The Rev. Raymond A. Nelson, headmaster of Pike School, will be the speaker. The Forums are at 10:15 a.m. and at 11:15 a.m. Sundays. The public is invited to attend.

Rep. Town Meeting On Agenda

The Andover League of Women Voters will present a series of units, Representative vs. Open Town Meeting.

Representative Town Meeting and its possible application to Andover will be discussed. Also under discussion will be the interviews and information gathered by the committee from other towns with similar characteristics to Andover.

The schedule for the meetings is as follows: Monday, Nov. 11, at noon, at the home of Sylvia Neistadt, 185 High Plain Road, Tuesday, Nov. 12, at 9:15 at the home of Nancy Weinstein, 3

Crestwood Drive and Thursday, Nov. 14, at 7:45 at the home of Joan Abramson, 27 Kathleen Drive.

Babysitting will be provided at the Unitarian Church, Lowell St. for the Tuesday meeting. Contact Linda Carpenter for reservations.

All interested citizens are invited to attend.

Griggs Retains Counsel

Counsel for the school committee was retained at a salary of $5,000 on a 3-1 vote by the board Tuesday night, with Committeeman William L. Lane indignant that the school board chairman entered into a contract without written job descriptions.

Lane questioned Chairman Francis Griggs authority to talk with Atty. James Murphy of Lynn, who had represented the majority of the committee in a case earlier this year.

The school committee by majority vote a little over a month ago approved obtaining their own counsel and not using town counsel.

Griggs informed the committee that he had talked with Atty. Murphy and said counsel was agreeable to accepting the position and that he would provide the committee with oral and written reports on request. He said the monetary agreement was for $5,000, that he was to start Nov. 1 and he would be paid a month in advance.

Lane insisted that a written job description for the position should be provided, as is the case for all other positions.

Lane's attempts to interject other points in his arguments, were interrupted by Griggs who said, "We're going to pass this whether you like it or not."

When Committeeman George Olesen read from the minutes of the last meeting at which the counsel proposal was discussed, Lane asked if there was anything in the minutes which authorized the chairman to enter into a contract, Olesen replied in the negative.

Lane was opposed when the vote to retain Murphy was made.

Atty. Murphy will be at the second school committee meeting in the months of November and December according to the agreement reached by Griggs, with future attendance to be worked out with the committee.

School Board Interested In Sacred Heart

The school committee is interested in the availability of the Sacred Heart Boarding school in Shawsheen and Tuesday night approved Chairman Francis Griggs serving on a study committee to be appointed by Town Manager J. Maynard Austin.

The town manager and selectmen are going to appoint a special committee to study the feasibility of acquiring all or part of the property which was abandoned by the Sacred Heart order as a school this year.

The former American Woolen Company general offices in Shawsheen is currently on the market and local officials are interested in at least the land available with the site. There are several playfields, as well as what once was used as a skating rink that go with the property.

Chairman Griggs informed his colleagues of the town's interest in the matter Tuesday night and asked if they wished participation in the study committee deliberations.

Committeeman William L. Lane said he felt there were several possibilities for town use of the property and moved that Griggs serve on the committee.

Supt. of Schools Kenneth R. Seifert said that he has looked at the building and property and found it could well be an answer to not only administrative office space, but also could solve some of the town's student population problems as well.

Consoling Thoughts

Congressman Paul W. Cronin and daughter, Kim, right, receive some words of encouragement Tuesday night from Mr. and Mrs. Paul Durant, following Cronin's consession speech at the Andover Country Club.

Seifert said there would be minor renovations necessary, agreeing with comments made by committee members that the school itself was a well constructed building.

Town Manager Austin has indicated that a committee will be named soon to examine the potential and determine if the town should proceed toward acquisition of the property.

The Sacred Heart space could be worked into a possible plan to redistribute Andover's school youngsters to relieve overcrowding in the secondary schools.

Seifert answered "definitely yes" Tuesday night to a question on whether the possibility of a grade shift was worth further study.

One possibility, he said, would be a four-year high school, incorporating West Junior High into the high school plant.

However, he said, making East Junior High into a single, two-year middle school for the seventh and eighth grades, would still leave a population problem there.

There are about 500 pupils per class, he went on, and East Junior High should have a capacity of 700 to 750.

All nine schools will be looked at in a study of redistricting, he said, adding that the major problem now is at the high school where 1500 youths are crowded into a building built for 1200. "And it's scheduled to go higher," he said.

International Tea Set For YWCA

On Sunday, Nov. 10, the Lawrence YWCA will hold its annual International Tea. Nancy Jukins, of Methuen, is the chairman of the Tea, and her committee includes Mrs. Joan Augusta, Mrs. Elsie Crotty, Mrs. Emma Messa, Mrs. Carol Shwetz, and Mrs. Amelia Stundza.

Coffee, tea and pastries from Poland, Germany, Italy, England, France and the Mid-East will be served. Recipes for the pastries will be available for purchase.

The Merrimack Valley Textile Museum plans to have an exhibit concerning women at the turn of the century on display in the lobby of the YWCA. A portion of the exhibit depicts the foresight of Lawrence women in organizing the first International Institute in the country, for the purpose of cultural exchange between women of different nationalities.

The Tea will be held in Houghton Hall at the Lawrence YWCA from 4 to 5:30.

Townsmen Chorus In Concert

Promptly at 8 p.m. on Nov. 16, the house lights of the West Junior High School on Shawsheen Road in Andover, will dim and the emcee, John Fahey of Boston, the famous double talker, will open the 10th anniversary musical show of "The Townsmen Chorus."

This year the show features the Sounds Unlimited quartet for fine, crisp barbershop harmony, and the Blue Hill Four quartet for musical antics, both leaders in musical presentation. Then a surprise as the Dulcet-Tones Sweet Adelines quartet, with their version of the barbershop harmony sound. Then "The Merrimack Valley Sweet Adelines Chorus" as they carry off several polished numbers in close harmony and precision.

Finally, "The Townsmen Chorus" and their chapter quartet "The Old Time Harmony Four," will top the program off. You can't afford to miss this show if you still remember the old minstrel medley style performance and the goose-bumps you get when a quartet makes that famous sound. Tickets are available through Dick Devivo in Tewksbury or Charlie Gallagher in Lowell for your reservations. Tickets will be available at the door on the evening of the performance.

248 Get Flu Shots

Two hundred and forty eight Andover residents over sixty years of age have been vaccinated against flu through the flu vaccination clinic sponsored by the Andover Board of Health, according to Neal D. McDowell, Director of the Board of Health.

The flu vaccination clinic was held Wednesday, Oct. 23 at East Junior High School and was supervised by Dr. William O'Reilly. He was assisted by several Andover nurses, including Mrs. James Beattie, Mrs. Francis Colpitts, Mrs. John Cahill, Mrs. Frederick Eastman, Miss Ruth Myhaver, Mrs. William O'Reilly, Mrs. James Vayanos, Mrs. Wanda Williams, Miss Helen Woodbury and Mrs. Howard Hamilton.

Student helpers from East Junior High School included Greg Gardner, Richard Driscoll, Paul Keefe, David Porcaro and Jim Hamilton.

Haven volunteers were Mrs. Edward Erickson, Mrs. Bernice Walsh, Mrs. Hazel Wilson, Harold Livingston, Fred Yancy, and Don Scott.

The Andover Board of Health wishes to thank all of the volunteers who participated in the clinic. Without their assistance the clinic could not have been conducted.

Winters Puts On Aerial Display, 40-9

By Rick Harrison
Andover High senior quarterback Jeff Winters unveiled another awesome aerial show that would have made Snoopy and the Red Baron envious, as he passed for 264 yards and three touchdowns to keep the Golden Warriors soaring with a 40-9 romp over Tewksbury in Merrimack Valley Football Conference play last Saturday.

The super-scrambling signalcaller also scored one TD himself, while junior Glenn Verrette hauled down his fifth and sixth scoring passes, junior John Fabiani hit paydirt twice and junior Mark Farnham grabbed a fourth quarter touchdown pitch from reserve QB Mike McCormick.

When the "run-and-shoot" offense departed the mangy Tewksbury gridiron late Saturday afternoon, the total damage added up to 442 yards from scrimmage and over 500 yards total offense for AHS.

The victory stretched the Warriors' three-year, regular-season win streak through 24 straight games. Andover is 7-0-0 in 1974, with a 6-0-0 mark in MVC play and a bead on its second consecutive league championship.

Collins Was Worried

"It may sound corny now that we've won the game 40-9, but I was worried about Tewksbury," related AHS Coach Dick Collins.

"I honestly didn't think we'd do as well as we did. They were the biggest team we've faced thus far with the possible exception of Chelmsford, and they also have a pair of excellent running backs (Rick Mackey and Scott Darby)," added Collins.

"Because they were so big up

Leading The Way

Jeff Winters hands off to Steve Fabiani in a warmup for this week's encounter with Billerica. Both figured prominently in the Golden Warrior win over Tewksbury last week to retain their league leadership and unbeaten streak.

front and were jammed in tight, we realized we had to go to the air. Their defensive secondary was also suspect, a weakness that had to be exploited," noted Collins.

"But I certainly didn't anticipate that we would throw 22 times in the first half (AHS did attempt 22 of its 28 passes in the first two quarters). It just worked out that way."

Winters connected on 9-of-22 aeriels in the first half for 182 yards, and several other tosses were perfect strikes but dropped by over-anxious receivers.

Time-and-again the Tewksbury defensive line, led by Steve Flagg, Mark Stephens and Chuck Minard, penetrated the Andover backfield and forced Winters to scramble.

But Jeff is as elusive as quarterbacks come. The scrambling merely gave the receivers extra time to find holes in the porous Tewksbury secondary, and on most occasions when the receivers caught the ball they were wide open and free to roam.

Opening Drive Fizzles

The Golden Warriors' first march carried from its own 16 to the Redmen 33 yard line. Winters picked apart the Tewksbury defense with a 30-yard pass completion to Steve Fabiani, two more to younger brother John Fabiani for 26 and 15 yards, and a fourth connection to Verrette for seven yards.

Before the afternoon was over John Fabiani caught four aeriels for 133 yards, Steve Fab 4-for-67 and Verrette 3-for-64 yards.

The drive fizzled out following a pair of incompletes to T.J. Stamas.

The solid AHS defense stopped Tewksbury cold on its first series, and following a Mark Brown punt Andover was back in business at its own 33.

Verrette's Fifth

An eight-play, 67-yard trek to paydirt began with a 16-yard pass to Steve Fabiani at midfield.

Tewksbury's Mike Rasmussen intercepted Winters' next serve at the Redmen 17, but a roughing - the - passer penalty nullified the theft and kept AHS moving.

John Fabiani raced 13 yards on a pitchout, and several plays later he scampered 14 yards on a similar play.

"John never carried the ball once before the second half of the Methuen game," revealed Collins. "He had been strictly on the special teams up until that time, except for brief play in the last period at Pentucket."

"He stepped in for Bill Alexander (leg injury) when he was hurt, and John played the entire Lawrence game," continued the coach.

His sudden emergence has been a very pleasant surprise.

Fabiani's second jaunt advanced the ball to the Tewksbury 11, setting the stage for a Winters - to - Verrette TD bullet.

Pete Reilly toed the extra point, but it was nullified by a holding penalty.

Andover went for the two-point conversion, with Winters firing to Verrette between the goalposts. Glenn made a spectacular leaping grab between two Redmen defenders, but he came down beyond the endline and AHS had to settle for a 6-0 lead.

"That was one helluva catch for something that didn't count," laughed Collins in retrospect.

Verrette, incidentally, also intercepted a pass, made a TD-saving tackle and a key block to spring John Fabiani loose.

Fumble Hurts

Tewksbury received a break late in the first quarter when a bad Winters' pitchout was covered by defensive guard Paul Bradley at the Warriors' 23.

Andover's stingy defense bent but refused to break to the running of Mackey, Darby and Bill McCann. Tewksbury's attack bogged down at the 10 yard line, so Scott Audette was summoned to boot a 27-yard field goal which cut the gap to 6-3 at 0:49 of the second quarter.

"At this point it was still anyone's ballgame even though we seemed to be controlling," pointed out Collins.

Verrette's Sixth

Following a fine 25-yard kickoff return by Mark Farnham to the Andover 37, Verrette snuck in behind the Tewksbury defense and Winters lofted a perfect spiral to Glenn who couldn't quite handle the pass in stride at the T-25.

Alexander and Brown later exchanged punts with the Warriors taking over at their own 16 yard line.

Steve Fabiani galloped 17 yards to the 33, and Winters found John Fabiani for a 21-yard pass to the Redmen 46.

Again Verrette outran the secondary and again Winters' pass was true. This time Glenn kept control and coasted to paydirt untouched.

Reilly's attempted PAT was blocked by Rich Sullivan, keeping the score at 12-3 with 5:38 left in the half.

Mirisola Nails Punter

Two minutes later defensive back Dave Mirisola broke through the Tewksbury line to dump Brown at the Redmen 15 before he could punt.

A 10-yard pass to Steve Fabiani, coupled with a personal foul penalty, pushed AHS to the 21¹/₂-yard line.

Three successive short passes failed before Winters rolled right for the touchdown on fourth down. Jeff followed his sixth TD with the conversion rush, upping the edge to 20-3 at 6:46.

Just prior to the half another fumbled pitchout was recovered by Mark Stephens at the Tewksbury 43.

Redman quarterback Tom Sullivan tore a page from Winters' book and whipped 11 and 12-yard passes to Darby and Russ Cabral.

With 19 seconds left in the half Mackey blasted 10 yards up-the-middle and broke three tackles to score standing up.

Darby's attempted rush for the conversion was stacked up by John McDonald, John Drivas and Dan Billings, keeping the score at 20-9.

Defensive Lapse?

"I was pleased with our entire defensive team," explained Collins. "We've noticed a vast improvement in the defensive line as the season has progressed."

"It's a shame our offense has somewhat overshadowed the defense, but we haven't allowed more than one touchdown in any game yet and Tewksbury's nine points were the most we've surrendered. The majority of the opposition touchdowns have followed turnovers."

"There was probably some slacking during Tewksbury's TD drive, but as luck would have it our cameraman ran out of film at that time so we can't really check," laughed Collins.

Bill Kenney, John Drivas, Mike Bernard, Alan Sherrard, Russ Tassanari, Hugh Conlon, John McDonald, Jerry Stabile, Brian Flannery, Dave Tallini, Ken LaFleur, Verrette and Farnham were defensive standouts.

Almost Breaks It

A very big play came on the second half kickoff, when Tewksbury's Scott Darby broke straight up the middle from his own 10. He passed all but one Andover defender, Glenn Verrette, who made the sure tackle at the Tewksbury 46 to save a touchdown.

Four formations later the Redmen were back to punt again, but McDonald blocked the boot at midfield and sophomore Jerry Stabile scooped up the loose ball and churned to the T-38.

After Mark Stephens sacked Winters for a seven yard loss, Jeff escaped on a brilliant 44-yard zig-zag run to the Redmen two-foot line.

Dave Tallini failed to hit paydirt, but John Fabiani cradled a pitchout and swept the left side for six points.

A Winters - to - Verrette conversion toss fell incomplete, keeping it 26-9.

Almost Another Breakaway Darby almost did it again, taking Reilly's long kickoff at the nine and busting it up the center again. This time Mark Farnham came up with a TD-saving, knee-top tackle at the Andover 48.

A fancy "flea-flicker" pass - and - lateral play carried 32 yards to the Warriors 16, but four plays later the Redmen surrendered on downs at the eight.

Late in the third period Alexander averted trouble on a punt try, chasing down a high snap at his own goalline and booting a fine kick under heavy pressure.

Verrette Defensively

Glenn Verrette set up the fifth AHS touchdown by intercepting a Sullivan pass deep in Andover territory on the first play of the fourth quarter.

"He's an outstanding safety and has picked off quite a few passes this year," lauded Collins. "But it does bother me somewhat to see him out there on defense."

Tallini and Craig Eosefow alternated rushes for short yardage, and Steve Fabiani caught an 11-yard pass from Winters.

Winters then looped a short aerial to John Fabiani in the right flat, and he sped 71 yards down the sideline for the six-pointer.

Verrette was alongside as a blocking escort, but it was Fabiani that first noticed Tewksbury's John Breen closing in from the side. Fabiani motioned to Verrette that Breen was bearing down. Glenn turned, kin-

Knights Try To Even Record After O.T. Win

By Bill Lafond

The Triton "Vikings" of Byfield came to Alvah Hayes Field on Saturday for the Homecoming Game. The red and black will try to even their record at 4-4 in a 1:30 kickoff.

Last Saturday at Ipswich, the Knights got their first look at the schoolboy tie-breaker rule. It was a scoreless tie after regulation time. The tough Knight defense first stopped Ipswich at the 10 yard line and then on the Knights third try from the two, freshman tailback Dan Brucato bulled his way in for the score and victory for the Scarlet Knights.

It was actually an all defensive game all afternoon as the first real threat came near the end of the first quarter when Freshman back Bernie Adell, who totaled 89 yards on 13 carries, got two long scampers of 11 and 10 yards which carried to the Knight 27. This drive was halted when the Ipswich quarterback was buried for a long loss on the fourth down play.

At the end of the first quarter the Knights got a good break when Marty Earley recovered a fumbled punt at the Ipswich 36 yard line. This drive was stopped on downs at the 25 yard line as the Knights just couldn't work consistent offensively.

A couple of long gainers by Adell of 18 and 17 yards set the ball at the N.A. 35, but another key defensive stalwart by the Knight line stopped that small threat by the Tigers.

Another weak offensive drive set the Knights in another punting situation at their own 36 yard line where a bad snap from center had punter John McManus running, but he was short of the first down by a good five yards where Ipswich got a break at first and 10 at the Knight 43 yard line. The defensive secondary Playing key roles in the North Andover 6-0 win over Ipswich in overtime last Saturday afternoon were, from left, Dan Brucato, who scored the touchdown; Drew Donahue, who batted down some Tiger passes to curb Ipswich threats and Marty Early who recovered a fumble to aid the Scarlet Knights's cause. It was the first time the Knights were involved in the new schoolboy rule providing for an overtime period in case of a tie.

played the part as Drew Donahue knocked a long pass away out of bounds to stop that drive at the N.A. 38.

The Knights battled Ipswich defensively in the third quarter trading the pigskin back and forth. There were four punts apiece setting the teams way back in their own territories.

Early in the fourth quarter, Ipswich threatened again as a short punt by McManus put the ball at the Ipswich 46 and a first and 10 for the Tigers. Adell once again got away on two more long sweeps of 16 yards apiece to the Knight 22. A gain of five yards by halfback Joe Stella put the ball at the 18 yard line. It was fourth and five. The defense stopped Ipswich halfback Bob Moody short by one yard of the first down and the Knight offense took over at their one 13 yard line. The Knights were forced to punt again but it was a short 24 yarder to the N.A. 32 yard line where Ipswich had a first and 10 with less than three minutes to go in the game. Moody and Adell got runs of 9 and 7 yards to put the ball at the Knight 16 yard line with time running out. The Knight defense held the Tigers to a fourth and 11 at the 17 where Ipswich kicker Jack Smith attempted a 34 yard field goal with 19 seconds on the clock. Smith's kick was wide to the left and it was overtime.

Ipswich won the toss and took the ball at the ten where they would have four tries to crack the goaline. Adell ran around end for five yards on the first try. Drew Marc-Aurelle and Moody bulled for 1 and 2 yards respectively to the two yard line on a fourth down. Adell on the ensuing play tried to cut back and around and he was hit and fumbled the ball. The Knights played a strong defense in holding the Tigers and it was now their turn.

Brucato did it, crashing from the two on the third down. He first found a hole for five yards, then bulled his way for three from where he carried it in for the finale. There was no conversion as the Knights had already won.

Coach Rorke said, "It was a beautiful defensive effort climaxed by a great overtime. Tom Donovan played fantastic as the top point-getter, but you really couldn't single out any individual as the whole defensive team played a good game. Ipswich showed that they were very quick with some very open speed. They played a spirited game."

Greg Edwards led the Knights attack on the ground with 33 yards on 18 carries while Wayne Alexander completed one pass for 15 yards.

Behind Adell who had 89 yards, Moody came up with 28 on 14 carries and Marc-Aurelle had 20 on 11 plays.

The Knights, after their win are now 2-4 in the Cape Ann and 3-4 overall while Ipswich is now 1-5 in the Cape Ann and 2-5 overall.

Triton, with one win is next: The "Vikings" are winless in the Cape Ann in six starts but have one victory in non-league competition as they opened the season with a 15-0 win over Georgetown. Since then they have found the going rough in the C.A.L. as they have gone down in defeats to Masconomet 21-12, Lynnfield 26-0, Hamilton-Wenham 29-6, Amesbury 57-13, Pentucket 40-20 and last Saturday to Newburyport 47-0.

Coach Dan Rorke stated, "Triton has a good offense with a fine back in Scott Willard and a good quarterback in Rod Gorman. They have shown that they can score by the way they got 20 points against a good Pentucket club."

The "Vikings" are under a new head coach this season in Ed Mazurek trying to rebuild an 0-9 season of a year ago.

It is Homecoming Day on Saturday at Alvah Hayes Field and the Knights would like to even their record at 4-4 overall as well as win their third straight in the Cape Ann.

A good offensive showing Saturday should stabilize the Knights as their defense has been superb and hopefully will keep it up.

Knight Frosh lose heartbreaker in battle of unbeaten: The Knight Frosh and Ipswich Frosh were both 6-0 before Friday but when Friday was over Ipswich was 7-0 and the Knights 6-1 with the home team losing a heart-breaker 12-6.

The Tiger first year quarterback found running room first as he jaunted 38 yards on a keeper around end for the first score early in the second quarter. The rush failed on the conversion and it was 6-0 at halftime.

Tom Erle ran back the second half kick-off 85 yards for the Knights score to tie the game. Jim Addonigio was stopped on the rush for the extras and it was a 6-6 game. Ipswich cashed in on the ensuing drive with ball-control all the way to the one yard line where the fullback crashed in for the score and as the conversion failed it was a 12-6 game early in the fourth quarter.

The Knights tried to catch up, but Ipswich stopped them on the big play and won out at the end 12-6 in the Cape Ann Freshman big game of the year.

On defense for the Knights in a losing cause Bill Sansoucie, Chris Calzetta and Tom Erle played fine games.

The Freshmen will travel to Byfield on Friday to face Triton in a 3:15 kick-off.

Knight J.V.s up record to 6-1: The J.V.s opened the scoring early in the first quarter with John Licciardi making a great leaping catch for a 24 yard scoring pass from Mike Chaput and as Chaput rushed around end for the extras it was 8-0 and that score stood out to the end for a final.

The defense played a big part in this one as Ipswich really never threatened until a minute was left in the game as they drove to the Knight 25 yard line. A fumble gave the ball back to the Knights with 50 seconds remaining.

Mark Crabtree, Tim Keegan, Dave Stone and Jim Rullo played fine games defensively while Mike Chaput was a perfect 6 for 6 on his passes for 83 yards. John Licciardi caught 4 passes for 68 yards. Chaput also ran for 30 yards on 10 carries.

The Junior Varsity puts their 6-1 record on the line Monday in a 3:15 kickoff at Triton.

Pats Take Title, 20-13

By Rick Harrison

Jim Lacourse scored on a nine-yard end-around run with only three plays left in regulation time, breaking a 13-13 tie and boosting the Shawsheen Patriots to an exciting 20-13 win over the Ballardvale Browns last Sunday in the Andover Junior Football League's single-game playoff at East Junior High.

Lacourse's clutch TD put the lid on a tense struggle that was tie 6-6 at halftime and 13-13 midway through the fourth quarter.

Both the Pats and Browns had finished the regular season tied for first place with identical 4-1-0 records. That Pats had bowed to the Browns, 13-0, and the Browns' lone setback was to the Indian Ridge Vikings, 6-0.

Scoreless Quarter

The first period was scoreless. The Patriots took the opening kickoff and marched to the Browns' 32 yard line behind the running of Bill Dufresne, Mel Berger and Lacourse.

However, the Browns' defense stiffened and held on downs when Dave White stacked up Dufresne on fourth down. Other Ballardvale defensive stalwarts were middle guard Dave Grant, linebacker Marty Solomon, Mike Sherman, Larry Larrabee, Roger St. Amand and Mike Brown.

The Browns' offense couldn't get untracked on its initial series, thanks to solid defensive play by the Pats' Phil Weeks and Mel Berger.

The final play of the opening stanza saw Shawsheen's Don Bliss break through to block Jim Higgins' attempted punt. Paul Sirois fell on the ball at the Browns' 29.

Berger Scores

A fine 10-yard run by Mel Berger was offset by a penalty, but then Patriots' quarterback Tom Walsh fired a 15-yard over-the-middle pass to Charlie Heseltine.

Marty Solomon Shows He's Really Big League

About one hour after the Shawsheen Patriots had edged the Ballardvale Browns 20-13 for the Andover Junior Football League championship last Sunday, the telephone at Pats' Coach Bill Walsh's home rang.

On the other end was Browns' 13-year-old quarterback Marty Solomon, a fine competitor who had called to congratulate Bill and his team on winning the title.

"I think it showed a tremendous amount of class on young Marty's part," stated Walsh. "It really impressed me and I don't think something like that should go unnoticed."

Indeed it shouldn't, because youngsters like Marty Solomon are what it's all about. They make the entire program a success.

Hats off to the entire Browns' team, because there really were no losers in Sunday's game.

final 15 yards to paydirt, and after the conversion failed it was 6-0 Pats.

The Browns came right back to tie it up on the final play of the first half.

Signal-caller Marty Solomon put the offensive wheels in motion with a 12-yard run. Mike Sherman bulled for five more, and on a fourth-and-inches play Solomon snuck for the first down at the Pats' 28.

Three plays pushed the Browns back two yards as Shawsheen defenders Bliss, Weeks, Lacourse, Berger, Gerry Jannetti and Dufresne were tough.

But on fourth-and-12 Solomon fired a perfect 30-yard scoring spiral to Scott Boucher.

Sherman was stopped inches shy of the goalline on the attempted conversion, keeping it 6-6.

McIntyre Shines

The Patriots' B-team, sparked by quarterback Glenn McIntyre, dominated third quarter action and built the Shawsheen lead to 13-6.

After short gainers by B-backs Ricky Dalton and Dave Robinson, McIntyre romped 19 yards on a quarterback keeper to the right side before he was pulled down at the Ballardvale one yard line.

Robinson sliced over left tackle for the TD, and Dalton hit the same spot for the conversion.

Shawsheen B-team defensive stalwarts included Steve Stabile, Tim Lacourse, McIntyre, John Levesque and Mike Burke. Browns' leaders were Robbie Quinlan, Frank Beaty and Jim MacMillan.

McIntyre bolted 13 yards to the Browns' 29 yard line on the final play of the third quarter, but on the A-team's first play a fumble was pounced on by Dave White and Jim Higgins.

Tying The Game

Mike Sherman then electrified the crowd of about 200 parents and friends, racing 70 yards down the left sideline and eluding a last-ditch diving tackle attempt by Tom Walsh at the Pats' 16 yard line to score.

Solomon rolled left for the tying PAT, making it 13-13.

Pats' Rebound

The potent Patriots' offense wasn't to be denied, however, as the AJFL's top scoring eleven put together its final TD drive.

Dufresne hit the line for seven yards, and after Walsh was sacked by Solomon and White, Mel Berger skirted left end for a big 25-yard run.

A facemask penalty hurt the Browns, followed by a nine-yard Berger run and Dufresne's sneak for the first down deep in Ballardvale Country.

Short bursts by Dufresne and Heseltine got the ball closer, setting up Lacourse's big end-around. Berger tacke on the PAT to make it 20-13.

The game ended three plays later with a 15-yard pass completion from Solomon to Scott Boucher at the Patriots' 40 yard line.

Recap

This marked the second championship for Coach Bill Walsh's Patriots in the last four years. The Pats won in 1971 and finished runner-up to the Central Colts in 1972 and 1973.

All members of the Patriots and Coach Bill Doherty's Browns deserve tremendous credit for excellent 1974 seasons.

Banquet

The annual AJFL awards banquet will be held next Tuesday night, November 12, beginning at 6:30 p.m. at the Lawrence Voke School.

Key trophies to be presented are the Gus Connolly and Walter 'Stretch' Pearson awards to the Top Lineman and Top Back in the league.

Andover High Coach Dick Collins will be on hand with three of his standout gridders from the undefeated 1974 Golden Warrior club, while junior high grid coaches George Sullivan and Jim Hurley are also expected to attend.

da waved bye-bye, and took Breen out of the play to clear the way.

Reilly toed his 17th PAT to up the spread to 33-9 at 1:22.

Wrapping It Up

A Craig Eosefow interception, thrown right in his gut by Sullivan, led to the final touchdown.

Eosefow returned the ball 20 yards to the Redmen 26. Jerry Stabile, a running back of the future, took a Mike McCormick pitch left for 11 yards. Bob Hoelzel bulled eight more yards, and then McCormick lofted an eight-yard TD toss to Farnham in the left front corner of the end-zone.

Reilly's 18th PAT made it 40-9 at 4:54.

Tewksbury's last-ditch try against the AHS defensive reserves was halted at the Warriors' 24 yard line. Hoelzel came back with a 19-yard run and Ken LaFleur slammed 23 yards before time ran out.

Statistics

Andover managed wide statistical edges in first downs (19-9), yards rushing (170-132), yards passing (272-47), interceptions (2-0), total yardage from scrimmage (442-179) and scrimmage plays (63-56).

Winters now has completed 75-of-134 passes (56 per cent) for a whopping 1,052 yards and 10 touchdowns.

Verrette is the top pass catcher with 30 receptions for close to 600 yards and six TDs.

Winters, who may be headed for Holy Cross next Fall, has also rushed for over 350 yards from scrimmage in 60 carries. He's been sacked 11 times for 82 yards in losses.

DRACUT

This Saturday afternoon Andover will travel to Dracut for a 1:30 p.m. clash with the MVC runner-up Middies (4-2-0).

A win would go a long way towards clinching that second title for Andover.

Dracut has lost two ballgames, one by one point (21-20 to Wilmington) and one by three points (6-3 to Chelmsford), commented Collins. "They can do a lot of things offensively."

"I know it seems like I say this every week, but they will be our biggest challenge to date. We haven't faced a quarterback the caliber of this kid (Scott) Merrill yet. (Chuck) Gaudet of Austin was good, but didn't pose the threat that Merrill does in the air. They also have good speed in the backfield and at split end," stated Collins.

The Middies are coached by veteran Ed Murphy, now in his 29th year at Dracut and the winningest MVC coach in history with 78 league triumphs.

Injury Report

Bill Alexander continues to be plagued with a somewhat mysterious leg injury that first hit him last year. His leg was in a cast for two months last Spring. It was fine over the summer, but began acting up again three weeks ago.

Alex will be available for punting duties.

Super Bowl?

It's still too early to be thinking of a second Super Bowl, but Andover and Gloucester (7-0-0) are rated 1-2 in EMass. Division II with three weeks to go!

Men's Hoop League Forming

Plans are well underway for the 1974-1975 season. All men 19 years old or older are invited to play. Two divisions are being formed similar to last year's league. The young men's division will be made up of players 19-32 years old and the grey hairs division is for men 33 and over. Practice sessions for anyone interested in playing have been scheduled for next Tuesday and Thursday, 7-10 p.m., at the high school gym. League play is planned for Thursday evenings at the high school with the season's opener set for Nov. 21.

Team captains are expected to turn in their rosters to President Frank Monette by Nov. 14. Players are needed for both divisions, especially the 19-32 year olds. Any men desiring to play are asked to attend either of next week's practices or call Les Gilbert. Eligibility requires that men either live or work in Andover.

Girls' Hoop League Forming

The Recreation / Community Schools Department will be starting its Girls' Basketball League in a few weeks. This program is for 4th - 6th graders and will be run this year by Mary Hanson.

At present the Department plans to have 8 teams in a round robin tournament beginning the first week in December and running for eight weeks. If there are more than eight teams, the season will be extended and the competition format changed accordingly. Games will be played at Sanborn on Tuesdays and Bancroft on Wednesdays, from 6:30 - 8:30 p.m. Youngsters must enter as a team with 12 members including a coach and a team name. A team may enter with less than 12 but must expect to have members assigned to their team by the Department. They may sign up directly at the Recreation / Community Schools office or through their physical education teacher. The deadline for registering in Nov. 15. While the department wants registrations by team, it does not want to exclude any youngster who wishes to play but cannot find others to form a team. These girls may register with their physical education teacher and the department will place them on a team. The department will also try to find coaches for any team who cannot find one.

Bullard Boots Home Crimson

Andover's Lyman Bullard scored both goals for Harvard as the Crimson soccer team beat Dartmouth 2-1 at Hanover Oct. 26.

The win lifted Harvard into a first-place tie with Brown in the Ivy League at won-3, lost-0. The Crimson are 4-1-1 overall.

Trailing 1-0 at the half, Harvard took charge in the second period and controlled play from the outset. Bullard evened things at 10:33 when, breaking across the goalmouth from his right inside forward position, he took a pass from left wing LeRoy Thompson and converted before the Big Green defense could recover.

Bullard tallied the game-winner at 23:27 on a similar move after halfback Mark Zimering led a rush up the center of the field, drawing the defense away from the former Berkshire School soccer captain. Bullard, a sophomore, is Harvard's top goal scorer with three, all in his last two games.

Bullard is a history major at Harvard. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lyman G. Bullard of 107 Highland Road.

Andover Girl Is Co-Captain

The Lawrence YWCA "Wahoo's" Swim Team elected Co-captains for the 1974-1975 season. The 57 swimmers elected Sandra Healy of Andover and Sue Masse of Lawrence to head the team.

The Wahoo's are the Northeast District "Y" Swim Champs, as well as regular competitors in NEAAU competition. Team members are from the Greater Lawrence Area.

Colleen Dowd and Brenda Nightingale, voted as the outstanding swimmers for the team, will head an impressive list of returning teammates, along with other top scoring veterans Carol Belbin, Nancy Pearson, Karen Staats, Barbara Wright and Ann Wright.

The local Swim Team whose swimmers age from 8 to 17 is currently holding daily practice sessions in anticipation of an early start to a long schedule of meets which includes such local teams as Phillips Academy, and the Lawrence Boys Club.

Little League Meeting

The Andover Little League will hold a very important general meeting on Tuesday, Nov. 12, at 7:45 p.m. in the Memorial Hall Library.

On the agenda will be the election of the next slate of officers for the 1975 season, plus a vote on constitutional changes and other key matters.

It is most vital that all managers, coaches, current directors and other interested parents and friends be in attendance.

Enlists In Air Force

Kanoba Lee Bradner son of Mrs. Willieree Berger of 5 Brechin Terrace, Andover, enlisted in the United States Air Force today according to MSgt. Cadeiux the USAF Representative in the greater Andover area.

Shortly after the enlistment ceremony, Mr. Bradner departed for Lackland Air Force Base, Texas, where he will attend the Airman's School of Military Science.

Mr. Bradner graduated from Andover High School in June 1972.

Induction Held By Cub Pack 72

Cub Scout Pack 72 met at the Free Christian Church and had its annual induction of new Cubs.

Akela, the great chief of Cub Scouting, tested the boys on their awareness of scouting and awarded all the following boys their Bobcat patches: David Maxwell, Daniel Fraser, Harold Whitworth, Richard Dow, Kenneth Plourde, William Donovan, Brian Finnerty, Michael Higgins, Glen Markey, John Lahood, Todd Deery, Floyd Greenwood, Matthew Leonard, Timothy Wheeler, John Ciolfi, Lawrence Torrisi, Shawn O'Shea, David Petrella, Robert Bright, Grant VanAken, Stanley Freitas, Mark Lefebvre, Diarmid O'Donoghue, Leonard Smith, Robert Wilson, Charlie Monks and Donald Larson. David Cunningham was also awarded a gold arrow.

An apple bobbing contest followed which was won by Den Four. Both parents and Cubs enjoyed the evening's activities.

Open Forum At Jr. High

Dr. Richard McGrail, Principal, has announced that an Open Forum will be held at the Andover East Junior High School on Thursday, Nov. 21.

The meeting will be held in the school cafeteria beginning at 8 p.m. and refreshments will be served.

The forum will be run on an informal basis, and any subject of interest or concern to a parent is a legitimate item for discussion.

Halloween Party Is Successful

The Shawsheen PTO sponsored a "Safe and Exciting Halloween Party" for the second year. Concerns for the welfare of the children and the community resulted in a "surprise packed" Halloween party that utilized the entire lower floor of the school.

These past few weeks, Shawsheen students have produced a multitude of artistic creations for the party. A scary Spook House, designed and produced by 6th grade students, under the guidance of Mr. and Mrs. James Flynn, was the hit of the party. Games, contests, movies and refreshments completed the fun-filled evening.

Over 300 children and numerous parents provided a parade of costumes that was a delight to behold. Many Shawsheen School graduates came back to help with the fun. Students judged the costumes for prizes, which were awarded by Principal Isabelle Dobbie. The winners were: Jamie Carew, Robert Machado, Susan Demers, John Horan, Erica Heartquist, Geoffrey Stafford and Tina Dufresne. Best adult costume award went to Connie Gaudet.

The PTO looks forward to continuing this annual event in '75 for the benefit of the children and the community.

Merrimack Professors Get Grants

Two Merrimack College Political Science professors, Dr. Sean A. Kelleher of Haverhill and Dr. Curtis H. Martin of North Andover, have been awarded National Science Foundation grants to participate in a two day Political Socialization program at Hampshire College in Amherst on November 11 and 12.

The second part of the seminar program in Political Socialization will be held at Hampshire College in late February, 1975. The two seminar programs, which are funded by the National Science Foundation, will be administered by the American Political Science Association of Washington, D.C.

The Political Socialization seminar programs are designed to inform college teachers of the theories, methods, and empirical results of work in this field over the past fifteen years. The programs will also seek to adapt this newly acquired data in political socialization to existing undergraduate courses and to student participation in class-related political socialization research.

Dr. Kelleher is an honors graduate of Tulane University and received his Ph.D. degree in Political Science from Brown University in 1973. He joined the Merrimack College faculty in 1973 and teaches undergraduate courses in American National Government, Politics of Southeast Asia, and the Political Science Seminar.

Dr. Kelleher resides with his wife and daughter in Haverhill.

Dr. Martin is a 1967 cum laude graduate of Harvard University with an A.B. degree in Literature and was awarded the Ph.D. degree by the Fletcher School of International Law and Diplomacy at Tufts University in 1974.

At Merrimack, he teaches undergraduate courses in American National Government, U.S. Foreign Policy, World Politics, and Soviet and East European Government. He is also the faculty advisor for the Merrimack delegation to the Harvard University Model United Nations.

Prior to his appointment to the Merrimack College faculty, Dr. Martin had taught at Regis College and later served as a Research Associate at the National Bureau of Economic Research in Cambridge, Mass.

On Dean's List

Ellen Anne O'Donnell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis O'Donnell of 34 Lincoln St., Andover, has been named to the Dean's list at Boston University's Sargent College of Allied Health Professions. A grade point average of 3.3 on a scale of 4.0 is required for the distinction.

A sophomore majoring in occupational therapy, Ms. O'Donnell is a 1973 graduate of Andover High School.

Memorial Hall Library

New Course In Self-Exploration Through Literature

Memorial Hall Library is proud to present an exciting new literature course that will explore the magic worlds created by some of our greatest writers. Mary Gendler will lead the course on Monday mornings from 9 to 10:30 beginning Nov. 11 and continuing until Dec. 16. Ms. Gendler, who has a M.A. in English and a M.Ed. in Counseling, will try to treat her subjects both intellectually and emotionally, and participants will be encouraged to write, dramatize, sing and paint their self-discoveries. Techniques will include theater games, gestalt and fantasy.

The works to be read are Gilgamesh by Herbert Mason, my father moved through dooms of love by e.e. cummings, A Day of Pleasures by Isaac Bashevis Singer, Siddhartha by Herman Hesse and The Overcoat by Gogol. There is a sign-up sheet and display poster on the library's circulation desk for those who are interested. If this is not convenient, you may telephone the library to join the group.

Friday Night At The Movies

The inimitable Sir Lawrence Olivier will star in this Friday night's feature film, The Entertainer, to be shown in the Hall of the library at 7:30 p.m. Nov. 8. This is an absorbing drama of an egocentric, second-rate song and dance man, and is directed by Tony Richardson.

And commencing next Friday for a three week period, we will have sports films of the Bruins, Celtics and Patriots in that order. Our first film at 7:30 p.m. on Nov. 15 will feature the 1974 Stanley Cup finals between the Boston Bruins and the Philadelphia Flyers.

Sewing And Knitting Book List

The new sampler now on display in the library near the card catalog is on the subject of How to Sew and Knit. It was compiled by our assistant Director Connie Smyth, and will be shown throughout the month of November. We believe our patrons will find this display enjoyable and instructive, so come in and take a look.

Noted Art Collector Leads Panel

Dan Frishman, well known local art connoisseur, and members of his staff will lead a panel discussion at 8 p.m. on Nov. 13. The subject, "Collecting Paintings, Sculpture and Prints," is a fascinating one and should attract active and would-be active collectors.

Mr. Frishman, who has had an interesting and varied career as a consultant in the textile industry and an inventor with several patents to his credit, now operates the Daniel Frishman Gallery of Art in Osterville on Cape Cod.

Great Books Program

The fourth in the series of Great Books programs takes place on Tuesday, Nov. 12 at 7:30 p.m. The book to be analyzed is Sigmund Freud's Civilization and Its Discontents and, as is customary, Robert Rockwell of North Andover will lead the discussion.

Children's Room News By Jan Johnson

Parents with pre-school children will be glad to learn that our weekly film program, Films on Fridays, is back for the month of November. Three short films will be shown at 10:30 and again at 2 to pre-school children and their parents. No need to sign up, everyone is welcome. The program for Nov. 8 is the Mole and the Lollipop, Foolish Frog and Mike Mulligan and his Steamshovel.

You Can Do It meets again on Saturday, Nov. 9 at 10:30 for informal crafts. Children in grades one, two and three are welcome to come. This week please bring a wire coat hanger and some small light objects such as paper clips, safety pins, pipe cleaners. Be imaginative; think colorful. See you there.

Mark Saturday, Nov. 23 at 3 on your calendar. A special pre-Thanksgiving program for children in grades k-6 happens then. More details next week.

Now, we are pleased to announce the winners of our Trim-A-Lantern contest and the categories in which their decorated pumpkins won:

Best all-round pumpkin, Nina Derba; Funniest pumpkin, Andrea Miller; Fanciest, Lucia Derba; Scariest, Naomi Gendler; Ghost's Favorite, Tamar Gendler; Best Story Character, Gay Kothman; Most unusual, Daniel Isaacs; Most Creative, Brad Miller; Witch's Favorite, David Isaacs. Our team of judges congratulates you all and thanks you for helping to make the Children's Room so festive for Halloween.

Silent Films At Castle

The Hammond Castle, 80 Hesperus Avenue, Gloucester, will have another of its popular silent films on Friday evening, November 29 at 8 o'clock. The film, made in 1928, was based on Sir Rider Haggard's most famous novel "She." The stars are Betty Blythe and Carlyle Blackwell. Left a strange legacy on his 25th birthday, Leo Vincey was driven to seek its truth on the strange, forbidding shores of Lybia and the mysterious land ruled by Ayenba (She - Who - Must - Be - Obeyed), who had waited 2,000 years for his return.

What Our Readers Say-

To the Editor of the TOWNSMAN:

In setting up their game plan for the selection of a replacement for Mr. Wragg, our Selectmen have managed to make one of the most naive, asinine, and unconstitutional suggestions related to democratic government. In the first place the limitation they placed on the candidates would set up a lame duck arrangement which is unanimously accepted as one of the most negative happenings in democratic process. Secondly, there is no way they can constitutionally demand that the candidates disenfranchise themselves of future political opportunity. What could they possibly have in mind with this ridiculous and rights crippling proposal?

With regard to the "obnoxious haggling" let me say that while some people consider education a complex and petty piece of business not worth the embarrassment and harassment of haggling, there are others who consider it a complex but important responsibility and are willing to suffer the harassment and indignities necessary in order to come to grips with the problems. Surely the Selectmen are aware that this is not just a local phenomenon but in reality an important struggle taking place in all sections of the country. Its outcome will determine the education process of this Country's children for the next hundred years.

Finally, I have noticed with interest and apprehension the arrival of Mr. Freedman of the Lawrence Tribune staff on the Andover education scene. His unsolicited interpretations, evaluations, and judgements, tend to allow him an ex-officio status in this community's affairs which he is not eligible for or elected to. Is there some way that he could be added to the list of candidates?

Literate

Webster's definition of illiterate includes the words ignorant, uneducated, especially unable to read or write.

To that, apparently Chairman Francis Griggs of the school committee would add those who read factual reports of school committee meeting which cast an unfavorable light upon him or his colleagues.

At last week's joint meeting of the school committee and selectmen, Mr. Griggs called readers of school committee reports in this newspaper walking illiterates, granting however, that they were functional.

The remark was a retort to Selectman Edmund J. Sullivan, Jr., who had referred to the school committee sessions as "obnoxious wrangling."

Mr. Griggs, to put it in modern lingo, seems a little up tight lately. He felt it necessary to retort to references made about the school committee at the October town meeting. Again, last Tuesday night, his feelings were crushed by what is apparently a general observation by the public concerning school committee meeting activities.

We do not feel that we must reassure the general readership of this newspaper that the school committee coverage provided is accomplished by completely competent professionals. It is factual, without frills, and left for the general public to draw their own conclusions.

On this page and in these columns, editorial opinion is expressed, as is customary.

As for the illiteracy charge, we doubt that Mr. Griggs felt that way about our readers when we featured him as a self-professed maverick following his election to the board four years ago in his first term.

Hardly would our readers have been placed in that category when we editorially praised his efforts to save the town millions of dollars by blocking construction of a new elementary school in that first term of office.

Nor, would he have considered our readers illiterate last February when we endorsed his candidacy for re-election.

Those were the days when he was riding the crest of popularity.

Now, in the throes of controversy in school committee deliberations, the pressures seem to have worn off the glitter of those glory days.

We have said before and we think it bears repeating that as the pendulum swings in one direction, it assuredly will return.

And, we will continue to serve our literate audience with accurate, factual reporting.

One final comment.

It would appear that the majority of the school committee has a main intent of ridding the town of Dr. Kenneth R. Seifert as superintendent.

If that, in fact, is their intent, then they will have to go through the legalities on their own.

Mr. Griggs and his cohorts will not find a Judas in these offices.

The Doyle Land

Selectmen this week got their first glimpse of proposed use of the Doyle property off High Plain road, for which the town appropriated $300,000 last March for acquisition.

The plan, presented by an engineering consultant, displayed some extensive use of the area for such things as horseback riding, walking trails and some winter activity such as cross-country skiing.

According to information presented, the overall acreage is best suited to limited use.

Some of the selectmen seemed concerned about the proposed development, as well as the limited parking facilities (a maximum of 24 cars at current figuring).

Development cost is pegged at $100,000 as an approximation for development of the trails and public sectors.

We join with the selectmen in viewing this proposal as a preliminary plan.

We are sympathetic toward conservation interests, as well as making every effort to retain the present terrain of the property.

Inherent in the thinking of both acquisition and development of the property is the perpetual dangling of federal and state funds available for the project.

We note, once again, that while federal and state funds are always helpful, they are supplied by the same source, the taxpayers, depending on which pocket is being tapped.

We therefore feel there should be a lot more planning for this area to be suited to more general use, before going forward with an approximate $400,000 in public funds.

Land Decisions

Both Andover and North Andover are faced with similar problems, brought on by decisions of religious orders to give up local property holdings.

In Andover, the Sacred Heart school, a boys' boarding school in Shawsheen, has closed its doors due to decreasing enrollments and financial considerations.

In North Andover, Campion Hall, a Jesuit retreat house, is on the verge of sale, due to a declining appeal in retreats.

Both communities are now faced with decisions of whether to allow the properties to be sold to private developers, or to attempt to purchase the acreage for public property.

In both cases the municipal concern is the same and the problems similar.

While the land itself is desirable for preservation of open space, or in the case of the Sacred Heart school, a combination conservation and recreation, what about the buildings involved?

Andover is in the process of composing a study committee to examine the future use at Sacred Heart.

Admittedly, if the town were to obtain the property, the recreation facilities would be put to good use. The square footage of the school building itself, however, is more than the town could adequately utilize for all its office space needs, if the thinking was in that direction.

So too, is the case in North Andover, where the considerable open acreage lies on the banks of Lake Cochichewick. Development of the area for house lots or multi-family dwellings will surely result in the necessity of the installation of extensive sewer lines to the area.

Both communities must take into consideration the future implications of decision made now with regard to the properties.

The current state of the economy could well provide officials in both towns time to consider such implications, as well as the possibility of bringing the matter before the public at town meetings for an ultimate decision.

Down the Years with The Townsman

75 Years Ago - November, 1899

A series of drawings done by fourth through sixth graders in Andover schools is now on display in Superintendent of School's Johnson's office in the town hall. The drawings were also exhibited in the Copley Square hall in Boston.

Last Saturday afternoon the selectmen settled up the damages done to the Smith estate through the improvements made to Barnard Street. After assessment and negotiating, the 1241 square feet was transferred for a total of $651.

Two candidates took the examination for positions as post office clerks this past week. One was Arthur Bliss, Jr., son of the present postmaster and the other Miss Maude E. Ramsdell.

Joseph Lockhardt, who formerly ran the Waterman Greenhouse on High Street, has accepted a position with Mrs. C.A. Shattuck.

Owing to a blockade on the trolley lines last Saturday night, there were no cars run on the Andover tracks for four hours that evening.

50 Years Ago - November, 1924

Andover voters approve Coolidge for President and Fuller over Curley for Governor in the national election. Coolidge received 79 per cent of the Andover votes.

The number of books loaned by Memorial Hall library during October totalled 3,667. At the Ballardvale branch, there were 483 books loaned.

The school committee this week approved transporting youngsters from the Lowell Junction area to schools in Ballardvale. One volunteer has been signed so far and another is expected soon.

The financial statement for the month of October for the school department totalled $16,127.

At the K. of C. home Tuesday night, the returns of the election were received by a large gathering over the radio. Dr. J.J. Daly brought in his set for the gathering and coffee and doughnuts were served.

25 Years Ago - November, 1949

Boats now left on Haggetts pond will be confiscated by the public works department with the assistance of the police department. Since the time for removing them has long since past, the BPW has decided to take action.

Women residents on the upper end of Summer Street have asked local officials to take some precautions against hunters. They feel the sportsmen are firing too close to homes.

At the report meeting of the Community Chest this week, it was reported that $16,911 had been raised so far representing 95 per cent of the goal.

Elms in Shawsheen are victim of Dutch Elm disease and will be among the ten trees to be removed due to the severe damage.

Among the cases heard in court this week, was that of a horse being grazed too close to the roadside. The Wilmington farmer who pleaded guilty, was issued a warning.

10 Years Ago - November, 1964

Miss Miriam Putnam, librarian at Memorial Hall library, is honored on 25 years of service to the town.

Department of Public Works employees win their bid for civil service coverage by 112 votes in the November election.

Building permits for the month of October were up, showing a total of $451,218.

The November club observed the 75th anniversary of its founding at a luncheon this week.

GETTING ASSIST. William Langdell, Upsala College student who plans to study for the Swedish priesthood at Uppsala University in Sweden receives some pointers from Upsala's chaplain Charles Leps in the college's chapel.

Changes Architectural Direction

An Upsala College student who once dreamed of building New York skyscrapers has decided to build faith instead.

William Langdell, a 24-year-old computer specialist, will leave in December for Sweden where he plans to become a Swedish priest in the Lutheran church. He will study at Uppsala University for the next four years.

It was only six years ago that Langdell, a resident of East Orange, had visions of becoming an architect and engineer. After graduating from Andover High School in Massachusetts, he attended the Illinois Institute of Technology in Chicago for a year during which time, he said, he was "turned off" from being an architect-engineer. His second career choice was the ministry and he elected to pursue that goal.

"I just have a feeling that this is the way I would like to help humanity in a religious aspect," said Langdell. "I believe this is where my talents are best fitted."

Langdell said he was encouraged to pursue a ministerial career and to attend Upsala by the Rev. Hartland Gifford, then pastor of the Faith Lutheran Church of Andover and now employed by the Board of Publications of the Lutheran Church in America in Philadelphia. While a full-time student at Upsala, Langdell spent a summer in Sweden where he worked in the Stockholm diocese as an intern for the Swedish priesthood. While majoring in Scandinavian studies at Upsala, Langdell learned the Swedish language.

"It was during that summer I really became interested in Sweden," Langdell said, "and I thought I would enjoy living there. I also appreciated the high liturgical mass of the Swedish church and became attached to the church's strong commitment to youth."

Upon returning to Upsala, Langdell obtained a part-time job as manager of the college's computer center while continuing as a part-time student. He later was employed as a computer center manager for OmniData, a New York City firm which writes computer programs for architectural and engineering firms.

Last April, however, the lure of Sweden was too much and he returned to that country, working as a church intern in the Katarina Parish in Stockholm. He planned to continue his studies at Uppsala University and even went so far as to enroll there in its theological institute. But he learned unfortunately that he needed one more course in philosophy before he could be accepted as a full-time student. He also discovered that he couldn't work in Sweden on a student visa while taking just one course. He decided then to return to the United States and take the philosophy course at Upsala while resuming employment at OmniData.

Langdell, currently part-time organist at the Swedish Seaman's Church, New York City, plans to enter Uppsala in January and it'll take him four more years to become a Swedish minister. His father, Charles U. Langdell, is an investment counselor in Boston.

Fair On Saturday

The West Parish Church of Andover will hold a Country Fair on Saturday, Nov. 16, from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. A variety of items will be on sale at Mrs. Clarence Nelson's Country Store including Vermont Cheddar Cheese, home made pickles and relishes, baked beans, cole slaw, penny candy and other items.

Mrs. Brewster Seewald will again be the Auctioneer for the Children's Auction where only youngsters can bid on the items. Mrs. John Hess will be on hand with antiques.

The Women's Union will have a table of home made aprons and assorted gadgets and Mrs. Merle Schreurs will be at the bakery table with many home made goodies.

The Women's Evening Circle will have tables of Wreaths, Christmas Decoration, Knitted Goods, Jewelry, and many gifts for Christmas giving.

Shoppers may enjoy Morning Coffee served by Mrs. Joseph Occhipinti and Mrs. George Ainscow, luncheon, catered by Mrs. Kenneth Fitzgerald and Afternoon Tea with Mrs. Vahey Gulezian and Mrs. Frank Hill serving.

Co-chairman for the fair are Mrs. Edward Warwick and Mrs. Robert McQuade.

28 Old Tyme Harvest Fair Planned For Saturday

The Andover Baptist Church will hold its annual Olde Tyme Harvest Fair this Saturday, Nov.

9, from 9:30 a.m. to 4 p.m. in the Vestry and the Third Level of the church.

While the Olde Tyme theme was established just four years ago, the traditional apron table sponsored by the Women's Missionary Society has a history of over fifty years. During that time whenever the church held a fair, whatever the theme, the missionary society ladies lovingly and painstakingly sewed aprons for the event. Mrs. Clinton Stevens will supervise one apron table this year and Mrs. Charles E. Shattuck and Mrs. P. Leroy Wilson will be in charge of the white elephant and jewelry tables which the missionary group have added to their fair efforts.

Mrs. Marshall Hollis and Mrs. James Whitten of the Evening Circle of the missionary society will supervise the bakery table.

Other long time favorites will be the Friendly Circle's gift and holiday decorations tables, directed by Mrs. Al Evans, Mrs. Earl Robinson, and Mrs. Donald Blake; the plant table, chairmaned by Miss Dorothy Gordon; a candy table, promoted by the Jr. High Youth Fellowship; Toys and Games, displayed under the direction of Mrs. James Stevenson; and the "Nearly New" booth with Mrs. Webster Woodworth as chairman.

The Sr. High Youth Fellowship will assist members of the Friendly Circle during Morning Coffee, Luncheon, and Afternoon Tea, for which Mrs. Frederick Eastman and Mrs. Ernest Stocks and their committees are preparing homemade doughnuts, muffins, sandwiches, and cakes. There will also be hot dogs and tonic, country store cheese, preserves, and homebaked beans sold under the supervision of Norman Guild and Harold Livingston. Other members of the Men's Work Committee who will be helping on the day of the fair are John Webb, Malcolm Estelle, Albert Evans, and Everson Wilson. Mr. and Mrs. Walter Winn are in charge of decorations, assisted by Mrs. Robert Stocks, and publicity has been handled by Mrs. Fred Otis,

Spirit Of '74 Fair

St. Robert's parish in Andover will be sponsoring the "Spirit of '74" Bazaar in the lower church on Friday, Nov. 8 from 7-10 p.m. and Saturday, Nov. 9 from 10 a.m. - 4 p.m.

Many of the parishoners have been working all year preparing handmade articles for the bazaar. The fair will feature a knitting and crochet room, a plant table, a tremendous bakery, candy and preserve table. A Christmas room will feature articles for the home while the handicraft room will feature articles for the home and children's clothing. There will be a Teen Swap room and a White Elephant room. There will even be a Wig Salon. There will be plenty for the children in the game rooms, movies and even Santa on hand for pictures. Plan to have lunch or a snack at St. Robert's Tavern.

St. Robert's is located on Haggett's Pond Road in Andover. The first right beyond the new Andover Filtration Plant on Lowell St. will bring you to the "Spirit of '74."

Christmas School To Be Held

For the ninth consecutive year a Christmas School for four and five year olds will be held at Faith Lutheran Church in Andover. Classes will be held from Monday, December 2 to Friday, Dec. 6 from 9:30 to 11:15 a.m. The purpose of the Christmas School is to share with the young children an understanding of the significance of the Christmas event. The School is open to all children in the community - although, due to space limitations, only the first 50 children to apply will be accepted. There is no charge - a free will offering will be received each day.

25 women from churches throughout the Greater Andover area will make up the staff of the Christmas School. This year's chairman is Mrs. Barbara Clayton of West Boxford; secretary of the Christmas School is Mrs. Patricia Myrom. Registration forms will soon be available in the local churches. Advance registration may be made by contacting Mrs. Patricia Myrom, 69 Carmel Road, Andover.

Monthly Forums At West

As a part of the West Parish Church Christian Education program, a monthly forum on "Crisis and Controversies" will begin on Sunday evening, Nov. 17, at the church from 7:30 to 9:30.

The forum, conducted by Dr. Maxfield, will deal with various crises and controversies confronting our individual and collective lives in post-modern American society. The focus of the first forum will be upon the issues of medical ethics, (e.g., genetic control; health care and delivery systems; death and dying; and "mental illness," behavioral modification and psycho surgery), and the guest speaker will be Ms. Janice Raymond, who is currently a Ph.D. candidate in the joint doctoral program at Boston College and Andover Newton.

Ms. Raymond is writing her dissertation on the ethical issues surrounding the question of "trans-sexualism," and she has authored a number of essays, some of which have appeared in the Andover Newton Quarterly, the Holy Cross Quarterly, and the Journal of the American Academy of Religion. Ms. Raymond presently is teaching medical ethics at Boston College, the New School for Social Research in New York City, and Andover Newton Theological School.

Members of the community are invited to attend the forum.

The number of employed adult women increased by 1.2 million between January and July 1974, according to the U.S. Labor Department's Bureau of Labor Statistics.

Bicentennial Fair At South

Everything is now in readiness at South Church for the Bicentennial Fair, according to its Chairmen, Mrs. Charles Ziegenbein and Mrs. David Kern. The doors will open at 9:30, Saturday, Nov. 9, and all corners will find a variety of goods to put them in the holiday spirit. To enhance your shopping pleasure, a Snack Bar, managed by Mr. and Mrs. David Coffman, will provide refreshments throughout the day. Children will find entertainment in the Children's Room, with games and entertainment planned by the Board of Christian Education and the Board of World Service headed by Kenneth Barnhill. And a very special guest will be circulating between the hours of 11 and 2 when Big Bird comes to Andover to delight the youngsters.

All bakery needs can be satisfied at the Bakery Counter. The APC under Mrs. Marjorie Emmons has recruited homemade specialties from church members. Handsewn items including puppets will be for sale as will beautiful handknit mittens, slippers, hats and scarves. Mrs. Jan Zlatev, Mrs. Helen Cromie and Mrs. Gertrude Colpitts head those committees. All manner and size of plants and plant containers will be available in the Garden Shop, operated by Mrs. Beth Kiker and Mrs. Barbara Pulsford. And holiday decorations, handmade by church members, will be sold, under the direction of WICS and Mrs. Doris Oldaker. Mr. and Mrs. Fred Gridley and Mr. and Mrs. Richard Hudgins are the proprietors of the Country Store and the Diaconate will be in charge of the Attic, Basement, Closet Corner, featuring tucked away treasures. A special feature will be the Red, White and Blue table, selling items only of those colors, in keeping with the Bicentennial theme. Mrs. Harriet Gilcreast and Mrs. Ann Lawrence are in charge.

The public is invited to come and spend the day.

Community Fun Auction Will Benefit Temple

Do you want your family taken on a mountain climbing expedition?

Do you need some typing done?

How would you like a day on a yacht, your windows washed, lessons in bread baking or a gourmet dinner for six?

Those are just a few of the services volunteered so far by members of Temple Emanuel, Lawrence, as the Sisterhood prepares for its big fund-raising, fun-raising Service Auction.

The community is invited to the Temple at 483 Lowell St., Lawrence, at 8:30 p.m., Saturday, Nov. 23. Admission is free for the music and fun, and there'll be a chance to bid on bar tending services - a weekend at a beach cottage - tickets to the symphony - rides to ski mountains - your next party catered - and lots more.

Shirley Levinson and Phyllis Ponty are chairmen of the affair. Committee members include Alice Malis, Joan Lewis, Judy Block, June Halpert, Sally Factor, Marjorie Starensier, Thelma Simon, Ann Young, Barbara Hubbell, Marsha Gloddy, Mimi Queen, Harriett Traub, Lillian Margolis, Estelle Kublin and Helene Gack.

To Present Ballet Saturday

The Jewish Community Center Women's Group presents The North Shore Civic Ballet on Saturday, Nov. 9 at 8 p.m. at the Jewish Community Center, 580 Haverhill St., Lawrence.

Danny Sloan, performer, choreographer and teacher of The National Center For Afro-American Artists, will be the guest artist.

The program will consist of a lecture demonstration and selections of classical and modern dance.

The Ballet Company was organized by Paula K. Shiff, director of the Marblehead School of Ballet. It is composed of 17 young people ranging in age from 10-23 and coming from towns throughout the North Shore. The purpose of the Company is to provide young dancers with an actual performance, and to offer opportunities to participate in the quality dance performances on the North Shore. Members of the Company are selected on the basis of try-outs. They participate in many hours of practice and rehearsals in order to achieve the techniques, grace, strength and endurance of a dancer.

Tickets will be on sale at The Jewish Community Center or at the door the night of the performance.

Bills, bills, bills! At least when you own a home it doesn't all go down the drain, month after month, vanished forever. Each time you open your wallet hard earned cash disappears so you don't even know where it went. The feeling of being on a treadmill makes you want to throw in the sponge and go hide somewhere. At least when you own a home, you are forced to budget some savings each and every month. Mortgage interest and real estate taxes are deductible from your income tax, and principal savings grow like a nest egg annuity to supplement retirement income.

Assistance obtaining and processing your mortgage is a service of BOXTOP REALTY, Olde Andover Village, 93 Main St. Call 475-3984. Open 9-9. Sat. 9-5. Sun. by appt. Mrs. William F. Jolliffe

Jolliffe - Hand

Betsey Jean Hand, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene E. Hand of Amesbury, formerly of Andover, became the bride October 19, of William Frost Jolliffe of Andover. The groom is the son of Dr. and Mrs. Leslie S. Jolliffe, 137 Lowell Street.

The Rev. J. Edison Pike performed the 2 p.m. ceremony at Christ Church, Andover. A bagpipe band, the Stewart Highlanders, accompanied by Michael Pavone on the organ, provided the wedding music. The processional was "Amazing Grace" and the recessional, "Mary's Wedding."

Given in marriage by her father, the new Mrs. Jolliffe wore a gown of white silk organza, with sheer, puff sleeves, and reembroidered Venice lace appliques accenting the skirt and bodice. Her elbow-length mantilla was edged in matching Venice lace, and she carried a bouquet of white stephanotis, baby's breath and ferns.

Rebecca Hand served her sister as maid of honor, wearing a blue empire-style gown of silk organza, with white chantilly lace bodice and A-line skirt. She wore a matching picture hat and carried a bouquet of stephanotis, pink tea roses, baby's breath and ferns.

Similarly attired in avocado green, were the bridesmaids, Elizabeth and Margaret Jolliffe of Andover, Mrs. Rene DesRochers of San Francisco, and Carolyn Fish of Brighton. They carried bouquets of stephanotis, pink baby carnations, baby's breath and ferns. Mrs. Hand chose a blue floor-length gown of silk organza, trimmed with gold brocade and a matching jacket, for her daughter's wedding.

The groom's mother wore a floor-length gown in green crinoline silk with cowl neckline.

Richard Jolliffe of Toronto, Canada, was best man, and ushers were Clark Hand of Washington, D. C., Warren Naylor of Boston, Rene DesRochers of San Francisco, and Scott H. Currier of Andover. A reception followed at the Lanam Club, Andover, and the couple took their wedding trip to Bermuda.

A graduate of Andover High, the new Mrs. Jolliffe attended Green Mountain College and graduated from the Peter Bent Brigham Hospital School of Nursing. She is a registered nurse at Lawrence General Hospital.

Her husband, a graduate of Andover High and the American Academy of Dramatic Arts, received a bachelor of fine arts degree from Boston University. He is manager of investigations for the Boston Area Office of the Wackenhut Corporation.

The couple now lives at 20 Amici Way, Andover.

Holiday Boutique Scheduled

The Lawrence General Hospital Aid Association's annual Holiday Boutique, under the sponsorship of the Hospitality Shop Committee, will be held on Wednesday, Nov. 13 in the main lobby of the hospital from 10 a.m. until 4 p.m.

Hearl - Dimlich

Claire Mary Dimlich, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin F. Dimlich, 271 Salem St., Andover, became the bride September 21 of Lance S. Hearl. The groom is the son of Mrs. Harvey Hearl of White Plains, N.Y.

The Rev. Michael DiGregorio, O.S.A., officiated at the one o'clock ceremony at St. Augustine's Church, Andover. Keith Gould provided traditional wedding music on the organ. Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of ivory brocade satin with a train, and carried a bouquet of stephanotis and ivy.

Judith M. Dimlich of Andover attended her sister as maid of honor, and bridesmaids were another sister, Mrs. Susan D. Bachrach of Madison, Wisc., and Robyn Hill of Conway, N.H. They wore gowns in fall colors of rust and beige, and carried mixed spider chrysanthemums in yellow and rust, and white daisies.

Carrying matching flowers, and dressed in yellow, was the bride's niece, Deborah J. Dimlich of Wethersfield, Conn., who served as flower girl.

Mrs. Dimlich chose a gown of rust, yellow and beige print, for her daughter's wedding, and wore an orchid corsage. The groom's mother wore a sleeveless gown in silver brocade with a brown chiffon caftan, and a yellow orchid corsage.

Stewart Hearl of New York City was his brother's best man, and ushers were Michael Armstrong of Atlanta, Ga., and Michael Kennedy of Holyoke.

A reception followed the ceremony at the Andover Inn, and the couple took a wedding trip to North Conway, N.H. They are making their home in Beverly.

The new Mrs. Hearl is a graduate of Simmons College, and her husband, of Northeastern University. He is a broker for Yankee Marketers Co.

At Council

Mrs. Nicholas D. Rizzo (Muriel M. Rice) of Andover, was among 300 alumnae from across the country who attended Alumnae Council at Wellesley College Oct. 16-18. The councillors attended workshops dealing with activities and programs for the College's Centennial Celebration and also heard a keynote speech by Wellesley President Barbara W. Newell, a panel discussion by members of the College's Board of Trustees, and presentations by members of the College's administrative staff on issues of current concern at Wellesley.

New Format For Camellia Ball

Preparing Invitations

The annual Camellia ball will have a new format this year, being held at the Sheraton Rolling Green on Saturday night, Dec. 7, rather than on Friday as in past years. Here, addressing invitations for the annual social highlight of the Lawrence General Hospital Aid Association are, from left, Vera Beaumont, Edna Thomas, Janet Elias and Pauline Kellan.

This year's Camellia Ball, sponsored by the Lawrence General Hospital Aid Association, will be a dinner dance to be held at the Sheraton Rolling Green Saturday evening, Dec. 7, with cocktails beginning at 7:30 p.m. followed by a roast beef dinner.

There will be music during dinner, and dancing afterward until 1 a.m. The change from Friday to Saturday night hopefully will accommodate many more people who wish to attend.

Co-Chairmen of this year's dance, Mrs. Clifford Elias and Mrs. Robert Kellan, are being assisted by the Ways and Means Committee of the Aid Association.

Yogurt Cooking Featured

"Cooking With Yogurt" will be the Special Feature theme of the Merrimack Valley Christian Women's Club Coffee on Tuesday, Nov. 12 from 10 to 12 at the Andover Country Club. Ann-Elizabeth Herzog, President of the A.E. Herzog and Co. of Boston, Advertising and Public Relations Firm, will demonstrate and prepare unusual dishes using yogurt. Miss Herzog, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Herzog of Lawrence, is also public relations and food development counsel for a yogurt company and does cooking specials on several television channels.

Dr. Bruce Caldwell, superintendent of the Westfield public schools, will be the guest speaker and special music will be provided by Mrs. Ruth Ubelhour of Lexington.

All area women are cordially invited to attend this Coffee. Reservations should be made by Friday, Nov. 8 by contacting Mrs. Joan Dreyer, 2 Glenwood Road, Andover of Mrs. Mildred Brouck, 18 Court St., Methuen. Free nursery service is available.

Total enrollment in the U.S. Labor Department's Job Corps during the 1973 fiscal year was 1,100,000.

Guild To Make Gifts

Wagner Chorale In Concert

The Roger Wagner Chorale, world-renowned as one of America's finest choral groups, will appear in concert at Merrimack College on Sunday, Nov. 17 at 8:30 p.m. in the Collegiate Chapel on the North Andover campus.

The Roger Wagner Chorale's concert is the second event in the 1974-75 Merrimack College Celebrity Series, now in its sixth season. The first concert in this season's series featured Metropolitan Opera soprano Martina Arroyo. Other distinguished artists who will appear on the Merrimack College campus will include the New York Brass Quintet on February 23 and the Italian tenor Giuseppe Campora on April 6.

Founded in 1947 as the Los Angeles Chorale, the Roger Wagner Chorale first appeared with the Los Angeles Philharmonic with whom they now collaborate regularly. Subsequent seasons have found them making sixteen tours of the United States as well as numerous tours of South America, Europe, and the Far East. Last year, the Chorale made their first tour of the Soviet Union following their United States tour which included appearances in more than forty cities.

The Roger Wagner Chorale's repertoire covers a wide range, from 16th Century church music to romantic grand opera, to European and American folk music, spirituals, and popular songs. They have recorded more than forty albums and have been accorded numerous awards, including the coveted "Grammy" award. They have also made many television appearances and have been featured as a choral group for numerous motion pictures.

In addition to his work as founder-director of the Chorale, Roger Wagner is well known as a composer and arranger. He is also a highly regarded authority on religious music of the Medieval and Renaissance periods. As a result of his contribution to sacred music, he has been knighted twice, once by Pope Paul VI.

A native of France, Wagner completed his undergraduate work in music at the College of Montmorency and continued his research in church music at Dijon and Lyon. He is a Doctor of Music with degrees from both the University of Montreal and Westminster Choir College, whose choir he has conducted on a national tour. He is currently Director of Choral Music at the Los Angeles and Irvine campuses of the University of California as well as Music Director of the Southern California Choral Music Association. He has also conducted major symphony orchestras in North and South America and appears often as a guest conductor of choral groups throughout the world.

The program for the Roger Wagner Chorale's Concert at Merrimack College includes:

Ave Maria, Gregorian Chant; Ave Maria, Tomas Luis de Victoria; Requiem, Gabriel Faure; Liebeslieder Walzer Opus 52, Johannes Brahms; Three Israeli Folk Songs, Ya Ba Bom, Hiney Ma Tov, Hava Neitzey B'Machol, Arr. Maurice Goldman. Three Black Spirituals, The Virgin Mary Had a Baby Boy, Arr. Robert de Cormier; There Is a Balm in Gilead, Arr. W. Dawson; Joshua Fit de Battle of Jericho, Arr. Roger Wagner.

Suite from "Tenderland", Aaron Copland, Roger Wagner - Scherzo, Stomp Your Foot, The Promise Living, America the Beautiful.

Tickets for the Roger Wagner Chorale Concert are $4 and are available at the McQuade Library of Merrimack College. Tickets may also be purchased by mail order: Celebrity Series, Box 893, Merrimack College, North Andover, Mass. 01845. For more information on this concert and subsequent Celebrity Series performances, call 688-6175.

Readings By Poets Scheduled

Five notable Jewish poets whose works have been published throughout the world will give readings of their own works at a program to be presented by Zionist House, 17 Commonwealth Ave., Boston, on Sunday, Dec. 1, at 3 p.m. in observance of Jewish Book Month.

The Zionist House cultural program follows up a successful exhibition of Jewish artists held at Zionist House last July.

Presiding poet for the event will be the noted young poet, Jack Zucker, an instructor of English at Phillips Academy, Andover, and formerly connected with Babson College, Newark State College and Ohio State University.

Mr. Zucker, who is a member of the board of the New England Poetry Club and has had his poems published in magazines throughout the country, in addition to reading some of his own poems, will introduce other well-known poets including Ruth Feldman, Barbara L. Greenberg, James Reiss and Martin Robbins.

Everyone is welcome to attend the program, free of charge, and refreshments will be served. A musical interlude is also being planned.

Each of the poets on the program is expected to have a book table where their books will be made available for sale.

Membership in the non-profit Andover Historical Society, with headquarters at the Deacon Amos Blanchard House, 97 Main St., is open to the public.

H-P Earnings For Year To Be $75M

William R. Hewlett, president of the Hewlett-Packard Company, said he expects the Company's net earnings for fiscal 1974 will be somewhat over $75 million, or between $2.80 and $2.90 per share of common stock.

The Company's fiscal year ended Thursday, Oct. 31.

Speaking to a group of security analysts at the Company's headquarters in Palo Alto, Hewlett said that 1974 sales will be "in the neighborhood of $870 million."

He emphasized that both sales and earnings figures are rough estimates, and said that preliminary financial results for the fiscal year would not be available until the latter part of November.

Hewlett-Packard sales for the previous fiscal year were $661.3 million and its net earnings were $50.7 million, equal to $1.89 a share.

Seminar For Small Business

The Greater Lawrence Latin American Council and the Greater Lawrence Chamber of Commerce in cooperation with Merrimack College, the National Association of Accountants and the U.S. Small Business Administration, are sponsoring a Small Business Seminar to be held on four consecutive Monday evenings beginning on Monday, Nov. 25.

The seminar will be held at the Greater Lawrence Chamber of Commerce, 300 Essex Street, Lawrence, and will run from 7 to 9:30 p.m. These sessions will provide a basic orientation into the background and operation of small businesses including structuring and financial planning and recordkeeping. The first session, on Nov. 25, will include formal registration, the background of free enterprise system, and an introduction to the basic financial statement. Discussion leaders will be Professor John Slipkowsky, CPA, and Professor Donald Hanson of the Division of Business Administration, Merrimack College.

The second session, on Dec. 2, will deal with effective small business organization. Discussion leaders will include Filiber to Fernandez of Arlington Trust Company on banking, Atty. Ignatius R.J. Piscitello on legal aspects, and Armando Fernandez of Region I of the U.S. Small Business Administration on business planning and management.

Financial and tax aspects of small business will be the topic of the third session on Dec. 9. Thomas P. Mosson, CPA, of Henry J. Bornhoff Company, Boston and Lexington, and the National Association of Accountants, will be that evening's discussion leader.

The fourth and final meeting on Dec. 16 will be devoted to a panel discussion on Small Business Problem Solving. Also at this session certificates from the Small Business Administration will be presented to all participants completing the course. Reservations may be made by contacting the Greater Lawrence Chamber of Commerce. Coordinating the seminar for the Greater Lawrence Latin American Council is Ms. Maria Quintana.

Economy And Endangered Species

Excessive federal government participation and an encroaching legal structure are threatening to make the noninflationary economy "an endangered species," a bank economist has warned.

"Tremendously high inflation and no growth" combine as an omen of the extinction of the nation's traditional market economy, declared Dr. Karen N. Horn, assistant vice president and economist of The First National Bank of Boston.

Her talk was part of a seminar on "Planning for Change" co-sponsored by the New England Bank Marketing Association and Connecticut Bankers Association at Hartford's Hotel Sonesta.

Dr. Horn prefaced her main thesis with a discussion of the present economic recession and what she predicted as a period, at least through mid-1975, of virtually no growth.

"How fast the economy improves, throughout all of 1975, especially in certain key sectors, depends heavily on the course of inflation and the working out of a number of critical political uncertainties," she said.

As to her concern over the possible extinction of the non-inflationary economy, she said, "Much of this inflation which threatens the market economy and its quest for economic efficiency is due to its institutionalization. To be sure, an absolutely free market economy is subject to abuses that make necessary some of the institutions to control it. However, there has been a broad momentum for years carrying us toward a more centrally controlled economy."

Dr. Horn spoke of two dimensions to the problem: "First, in many instances where problems did in fact require government participation in solutions, it was the federal government rather than state and local governments that acted and, second, there is a large degree of legal encroachment on the 'economic habitat' which governs excessively many of the decisions which could be dealt with more efficiently by private business decisions."

She said she believed that revenue sharing is a first step in dealing with the first part of the problem. "This is the correct direction - away from central decisions - for dealing with a number of our current problems. Unquestionably, this trend to providing 'strings free' money to states should continue. However, there is less progress to report in dealing with the second problem of restoring the 'economic habitat' to one in which a market economy will cause prices and wages to be flexible in both directions, especially downward.

Barriers to competition keep prices from falling and all sorts of institutional barriers now exist," the economist said. She listed some of these as price regulation, tariffs, quotas, subsidies, route assignments, shipping restrictions and union restrictions. "I am not suggesting that all of this legal structure be removed. What I am suggesting is that it was created in a piecemeal manner. This legal structure must be reconsidered in light of its interactions with all areas of the economy. And overall regulation must be retained only where it is necessary to keep a market economy functioning. Otherwise we will continue our encroachment of the natural 'economic habitat' of the free market system until inflation is thoroughly institutionalized and the days of relatively stable prices are extinct.

I suggest that concentration on this problem of the accumulation of central regulations is the eventual long-run solution to the long-run problem of inflation. This must combine with the short-run measures of monetary and fiscal policy and attempt to deal with the supply bottlenecks. But in the midst of our immediate concerns about the problem of inflation, we must not ignore dealing with the long run problem as well. We must preserve a viable 'economic habitat.'

"We must have the wisdom to strike the balance between unbundling a reasonable amount of the cumbersome legislation without unleashing all of the problems it was implemented to control."

Applications Approved By Council

The Merrimack Health Planning Council, through its Executive Committee meeting on Wednesday evening October 30, 1974, recommended approval for two certificate of need applications in the Merrimack Valley.

The application of the Erlin Manor Nursing Home in Tewksbury was recommended for an approval to change the level of care offered. The new 120 bed facility would be allowed to operate 80 skilled nursing beds and 40 convalescent beds.

The application of the Bon Secours Hospital in Methuen was recommended for approval to replace a radiographic fluoroscopic unit that had become obsolete, with a newer model, at a cost of $165,000. Increased safety and efficiency, as well as increased demand for service, were the major factors cited in the Review committee recommendation for favorable review.

Both proposals, with the Council's recommendation for approval, now go to the State's Public Health Council on November 12, 1974, for a final decision.

The Labor Department's Comprehensive Migrant Manpower Program - designed to assist farmworkers and their families to settle out of the migrant stream - offers training, education, job development, placement, relocation, and health services.

Ariens and Artic Cat Featured at Larkin Lawnmower

The forecast is for a long, cold winter, with plenty of snow. Be prepared for the first storm with dependable Ariens snow removal equipment from Larkin Law-mower Service, Route 62, in North Reading. If you hate shoveling snow for hours, they can show you how to hate it for only minutes!

Larkin has the Ariens model that will do the job for your specific needs. The top-of-the-line Ariens 8 HP/32" Snow Thro should be your first choice for removal of large amounts of snow such as long driveways and sidewalks, corner lots and large parking areas. The Ariens self-propelled, two-state 6 & 8 HP/24" Snow Thros are compact and intermediate rugged performers capable of clearing a clean path in short order through high drifts.

The Ariens 6 HP/24" and 4 & 5 HP/20" Snow Thros incorporate the proven design and tested performance of the larger Ariens models; are easy to maneuver close to fences, curbs and buildings; clear boot-top drifts with surprising ease.

For fun in the snow, Larkin Lawnmower features the finest in recreation vehicles - the one and only Artic Cat! Models include the El Tigre, stock racer par excellence; the Pantera (a mighty special Panther); Cheeta, the best of both worlds -

 performance and comfort;
 Panther, the family favorite year after year; Lynx, the economy leader; VIP, for the man who wants everything; and Kitty Cat,
 the purr-fect Cat for kids.

Larkin also has all the accessories, including the official Artic Cat clothing. Larkin
 Lawnmower is open daily 8 - 6,
 Saturdays 8 - 5, and Thursday evenings till 9, on Route 62, North Reading. Tel. 664-4100 or 944-

LEGAL NOTICES

THE COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS, WATER RESOURCES COMMISSION, DIVISION OF WATER POLLUTION CONTROL, LEVERETT SALTONSTALL BUILDING, BOSTON, MASSACHUSETTS 02202, U. S. ENVIRONMENTAL PROTECTION AGENCY ENFORCEMENT DIVISION, PERMITS BRANCH REGION I, JOHN F. KENNEDY FEDERAL BUILDING, BOSTON, MASSACHUSETTS 02203.

JOINT PUBLIC NOTICE OF PROPOSED COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS / U. S. ENVIRONMENTAL PROTECTION AGENCY ISSUANCE OF NATIONAL POLLUTANT DISCHARGE ELIMINATION SYSTEM (NPDES) PERMIT (S) TO DISCHARGE INTO WATERS OF THE COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS UNDER CHAPTER 21, SECTION 43 OF THE MASSACHUSETTS GENERAL LAWS, AS AMENDED BY CHAPTER 546 OF THE ACTS OF 1973 AND UNDER SECTION 401 OF THE FEDERAL WATER POLLUTION CONTROL ACT (FWPCA).

PUBLIC NOTICE NUMBER: MA-91-75

PUBLIC COMMENT PERIOD: November 12, 1974 - December 12, 1974

APPLICANT INFORMATION

(1) APPLICANT NAME: Town of Andover, SIC 4952, MAILING ADDRESS: Director of Public Works, 20 Main Street, Andover, MA 01810, FACILITY ADDRESS: Ballardvale, Andover, MA 01810, APPLICATION NUMBER: Federal: MA0101435, State: M-147.

FACT SHEET PREPARED

The Town of Andover has applied for an NPDES permit to discharge pollutants to the Shawheen and Merrimack Rivers, Class B and C waters, respectively, at Andover.

The application pertains to two (2) existing discharges. One (1) discharge consists of approximately .075 million gallons per day (MGD) of treated wastewater from an existing overload secondary wastewater treatment plant to the Shawheen River.

The remaining discharge consists of approximately 2.0 million gallons per day (MGD) of untreated wastewater to the Merrimack River.

The permittee is required to tie-in to the Greater Lawrence Sanitary District Sewerage System by June 30, 1977. Upon completion of the tie-in the existing discharges will be eliminated.

APPLICANT NAME: Town of Billerica, SIC 4952, MAILING ADDRESS: Board of Sewer Commissioners, 250 Boston Road, Billerica, MA 01862, FACILITY ADDRESS: Letchworth Street, Billerica, MA, APPLICATION NUMBER: Federal: MA0101711, State: M-109

The Town of Billerica has applied for an NPDES permit to discharge pollutants to the Concord River, a Class C water at Billerica.

The application pertains to one (1) existing discharge consisting of treated wastewater from a 0.80 million gallons per day (MGD) secondary wastewater treatment facility. The permittee is presently increasing the capacity of the existing facility to 1.60 MGD. The project is scheduled to be completed by January 1, 1975.

The effluent limitations established for this discharge meet the secondary treatment regulations as required by Federal Law (40 CFR 133, 38 FR 22298).

TENTATIVE DETERMINATIONS

Tentative determinations regarding effluent limitations and other conditions to be imposed on the above NPDES permit(s) have been made by the Massachusetts Division of Water Pollution Control (DWPC) and the United States Environmental Protection Agency (EPA). The limitations and conditions imposed will assure that State water quality standards and applicable State and Federal laws will be met.

FURTHER INFORMATION

Fact sheets (describing among other things, the location of the discharge; the present discharge in quantitative terms; proposed effluent limitations to be contained in the permit; applicable effluent and water quality standards; and, procedures governing public participation in the formulation of final determinations) may be obtained at no cost by writing or calling the EPA. (Fact sheets are normally compiled only if the discharge has a total volume of more than 500,000 gallons on any day of the year.) The complete application, proposed permit and other information are on file and may be inspected at the DWPC or EPA, Boston offices. Copies, obtained by calling (617) 223-5061, will be made at a cost of 20¢ per page from 9:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m., Monday through Friday. PUBLIC COMMENTS / PUBLIC HEARINGS

Public comments on the proposed permit are invited and should be submitted in writing prior to December 12, 1974 to either the DWPC or EPA, Boston offices, at listed addresses above. Prior to such date, any person may submit a request in writing to these offices for an informal public hearing to consider the proposed permit. A hearing will be held only if the response to this notice indicates significant public interest. The application numbers should appear on the envelope and on the first page of any submitted comments. All comments received prior to the above date will be considered in the formulation of the final determinations.

Following the thirty (30) day comment period, determinations will be made by the Regional Administrator of the EPA and the Director of the DWPC with respect to each permit. Where determinations remain substantially unchanged from the tentative determinations and draft permit prepared, the Regional Administrator and Director will forward a copy of determinations to any person who has submitted written comments regarding the permit. Where determinations are substantially changed from the tentative determinations and proposed permit prepared, the Regional Administrator will provide public notice of such determinations, including a mailing to interested persons, as well as to those persons submitting written comments. Persons who feel that they may wish to request a formal adjudicatory hearing on the matter of the final permit determinations should file written comments during this thirty (30) day comment period.

Within ten (10) days of the date of receipt of the final determinations, any interested person may request an adjudicatory hearing of the Regional Administrator in accordance with the provisions of 40 C.F.R. ss125.36(b) and (c), 39 FR 27081. A similar request should also be filed with the Director within thirty (30) days of the date of receipt of the final determinations in accordance with the provisions of the Massachusetts Administrative Procedure Act and the Division's Rules for the Conduct of Adjudicatory Proceedings. Thomas C. McMahon, Director, Massachusetts Division of Water Pollution Control. Jeffrey G. Miller, Director, Enforcement Division Environmental Protection Agency.

John Cronin, unsuccessful independent candidate for Andover representative discusses the returns with brother William at reception at Elks Lodge Tuesday night.

Joint Session Tonight

Members of the school committee and selectmen will meet jointly tonight at West Elementary school auditorium to begin the process of selecting a person to fill the school board vacancy created by the resignation of John Wragg.

Due to the rules of procedure adopted at the first meeting held two weeks ago, it is not likely that an appointment will be made at tonight's meeting.

The rules stipulate that if more than one person is nominated then the board will meet again to vote on filling the vacancy.

Based on the opinions expressed at the initial joint session, the selectmen and school committee members will have at least one candidate apiece for consideration.

The selectmen are intent on placing a person on the committee to serve only through the March election, realizing that there is no legal barrier to prevent his being a candidate for election in March.

School committee Chairman Francis Griggs, however, feels the person appointed should be willing and interested to serve beyond the election.

Democrats Stun GOP In Andover

Presidency in 1960.

Atty. Cohen a classmate at UMass, Amherst with House Speaker David Bartley, received 3,741 votes, a 431 vote margin over Republican Roger W. Collins, an Andover native who had served as a selectman and chairman of the board on occasion for the past ten years.

Atty. Cronin, running as an independent, finished behind Collins with 2,595 votes.

The comparative closeness of the vote on the local contest is probably indicative of the campaign waged by the three candidates.

While Andover did support Congressman Paul Cronin's bid for re-election, his Democratic opponent Paul Tsongas cut sharply into the plurality. Cronin had an almost 3-1 margin two years ago when he defeated John F. Kerry for the Fifth District seat.

This year, while leading in all six precincts, Cronin was able to amass only a margin of 1700 votes, his total being 5,739 to 4,038 for Tsongas.

Local Republicans worked hard for Josiah Spaulding in his bid to capture the attorney general office. Their efforts showed in the 6,376 to 3,067 differential Spaulding had over Democrat Francis X. Bellotti.

In the statewide Democratic sweep, Spaulding was the only bright spot for the GOP.

In the race for the state's top elective office, Incumbent Francis W. Sargent topped Michael Dukakis, 5,325 to 4,132.

The significant figure here, is the 1,193 margin given the Sargent-Dwight team. In past state and national elections Republican candidates could generally expect a much wider margin from Andover.

Paul Guzzi, a Democrat, had a narrow edge over Senator Quinlan for the secretary of state office, 4,825 to 4,720.

Andover's two state senators, William X. Wall of Lawrence and William G. Saltonstall of Manchester, were unopposed in their bid for re-election.

This is the first time that Saltonstall will be representing Andover in the state senate. His new district includes Precincts five and six where he received 2,634 votes. Wall had 4,981 votes from the four remaining precincts.

As for the six referenda questions, Andover voters were in an affirmative frame of mind on all, by wide margins.

Processing of the votes went smoothly, with the computer printout of the totals completed by 9:30 p.m., an hour and one-half after the polls closed.

Town Clerk Elden R. Salter, reported that the election officials handled the large turnout of voters very well and the electronic processing of the totals moved along very well.

The overall Andover vote was completed by shortly after 11 p.m. with the write-in votes included and the total ballot balanced and officially reported.

Perc Test Limitation

The Andover Board of Health advises that percolation tests and other associated tests will not be honored if conducted between Dec. 1, 1974 and Feb. 28, 1975.
